

WALTER WILLIS, genial checker at Piggly Wiggly, and his wife are understanding folks, and The Herald appreciates their forbearance.

Through one of those unexplainable occurrences, last week Your Home Town Paper declared that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Willis were parents of a new girl. They denied the fact, though admitted they are expecting.

The announcement, made from notes from the Hamlin Memorial Hospital, was our error. We just didn't read our copy close enough. The girl was actually born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Willis Hunter.

JUDGE FRANK ROBERTS of The Andrews County News makes these observations in his "Drifting Sands" column of the paper:

Along with the weather, politics is warming up. Candidates over Texas are making their pitch. I think it was the Apostle Paul who said that we "was all things to all men, that he might win a few." Most office seekers want more than a few. And many use tactics of the apostle, but for a less noble purpose.

A lot of people will be taken in by the many glib promises and glittering generalities. As far as I am personally concerned, there is not a thing I want any politician to do for me, except leave me alone and let me earn a living honestly and decently.

I am not asking the government for any hand-outs or subsidies. If they want to raise the postal rates on my newspaper, they can go ahead as far as I am concerned.

If by chance they could find a way to prevent the armed services from selling each other surplus wooden spoons I'd be happy, and if they could find a way to take a little less from us and our help in the way of income taxes, I'd be thankful. If they can't, we will continue to shell out.

DEMONSTRATION of the cleverness of a person was noted last week in the case of some Stamford people.

A Hamlin minister and his wife were discussing two men who were in the news.

"Yes," said the minister, "I knew them both as boys. One was a clever handsome fellow; the other a steady, hard worker. The clever lad was left behind in the race, but the hard worker—well, he died and left $200,000 to his widow. It's a great moral."

"Yes," replied his wife, with a smile, "it is. I heard this morning that the clever one is going to marry the widow."

STOCK IN TRADE of the newspaper is, of course, news. An exchange coming to our desk the other day was discussing the word.

It has been pretty well settled that the word "news" is singular, but in years gone by an argument raged as to whether news was (or were) singular or plural.

The famous Horace Greeley took a side in the dispute on, he was an out-and-out pluralist.

Invariably Greeley would greet his reporters coming in off their beats with the question: "Are there any news?"

This irked the reporters, but it was some time before any of them thought up a suitable retort.

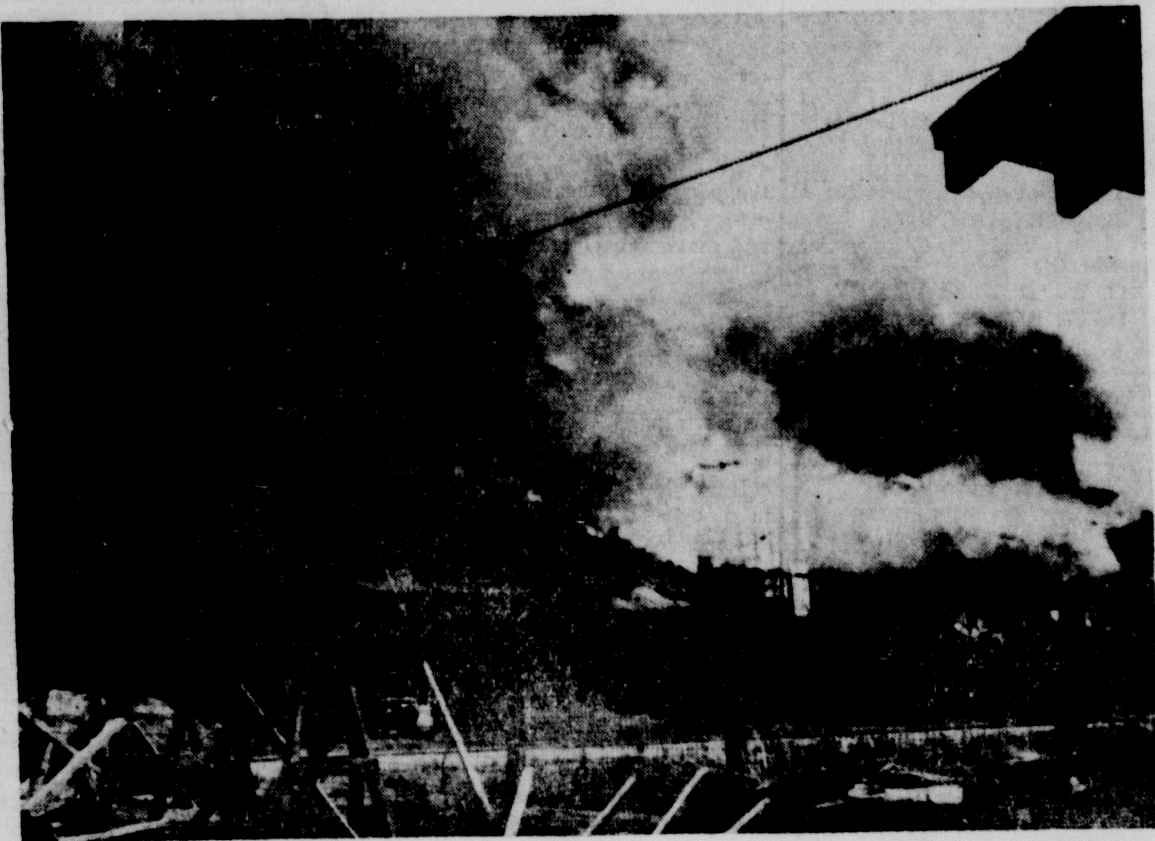

One day a perspiring news-hound dragged back into the office and, as expected, Greeley asked him, "Are there any news?"

The reporter snapped into an attention-like stance, glared directly at the editor, and replied: "No, sir, not a new!"

It is reported that Greeley, who authored the famous phrase, "Go West, young man," also suggested that this young reporter take a trip.

CONVERSATION is fine in its place, and in moderate doses. But after a second helping, most of us usually have all our appetite calls for. Francis Gerard gives this version of a bore...

He talks and he talks. Never losing his breath; His way to kill time Is to talk it to death!

SMOKE BILLOWS OUT from the big fire that Friday afternoon destroyed the gin plant of the Producers Cooperative Gin, located west of the Santa Fe Railway depot, that did an estimated $40,000 damage. The flames apparently had been underway for several hours when the alarm was sounded. Work of the Hamlin Volunteer Fire Department saved the cotton and seed houses and offices of the gin formerly known as Harden Gin. About $35,000 insurance was carried. (Photo by J. C. Burton Jr.)

Wheat Farmers Will Express Views on Quotas in Friday Poll

$2 Support Price Slated If Quotas Approved in Vote

Wheat farmers of the Hamlin region, along with those of the remainder of the country, will go to the polls Friday to vote on wheat marketing quotas for the 1957 wheat crop.

Friday has been set as the date for the national referendum in which wheat growers will vote to determine whether the wheat farmers favor quotas by the two-thirds majority necessary to put them into effect, says W. H. Cook, chairman of the Jones County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The following polling places are provided in Jones County at which wheat farmers may vote in the referendum: Hamlin, at Farmers Cooperative Gin office; Hawley, at Smith Service Station on highway; Lueders, at Felt Service Station; Noodle, at Farmers Cooperative Gin office; Stamford, at Kimbell elevator; and Anson, at ASC office.

The polls will be opened at 8:00 and will close at 7:00 p. m. All persons who have an interest as landlord, tenant or share-cropper in a farm for which a 1957 wheat allotment of more than one acre is required.

S. Navy in California. It has been announced in a release from the West Coast to The Herald.

"Thirty-four new stars," explains producers Claude E. Kenner, "and they are all Navy wives."

Lieutenant Commander George W. Beck of the U. S. Navy, Navy Department representative for the Mrs. U. S. Navy contest, and Terry Hines, movie director, join Mrs. Homola, a lady hopeful, as they inspect first scenes of the "Mrs. U. S. Navy Story."

Cub Scouts of the Northern District composed of Fisher, Stonewall and Jones Counties will have their choice of attending either of two day camps that are being planned for area youngsters.

Cub Scout day camps will be conducted in Sweetwater at the National Guard Armory in the City Park on July 24, 25 and 26, 10:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m., and at the City Park in Hamlin on July 31, August 1 and 2 at the same hours.

Daily program includes opening flag ceremony, sessions in handicraft achievement, model building, plaster casting, braiding, rope making and other crafts, and two swim periods each day. No fee will be charged. However, some craft supplies will be on sale. Boys will need to carry sack lunches and swim suits.

These day camps are open to all boys of Cub Scout age—eight, nine and 10 years, whether they are now registered members or not, declare sponsors.

The program is supervised by adult leaders and Boy Scouts, including life guards and swimming instructors.

LAW BOOKS DON'T COVER THIS—T. B. Wright, Fannin County Attorney of Bonham, has trouble trying to figure out the functioning of his M1 rifle. Wright enlisted in the 49th Armored Division May 18 and is undergoing basic training—the kind millions of GIs went through in World War II—during the unit's annual two-week encampment at North Fort Hood.

Area People Will Ballot on Parking Meters in Hamlin

French Robertson Speaks on Civil Defense at Rotary

After giving a review of his impressions of the last atomic bomb explosion in the South Pacific which he observed, French Robertson of Abilene told members and guests at the Hamlin Rotary Club in luncheon session Wednesday to give support to the civil defense movement that is being promoted in the Abilene area.

Robertson, long time oil operator of Abilene, a member of the Texas Prison Board and prominent in defense affairs, was a member of the official bomb observation team that witnessed the last atomic bomb tests in the Pacific.

Robertson said his group was 36 miles from the bomb target when the huge bomb was exploded.

Robertson then told of some of the operations of the Texas prisons, which have increased in population by 80 per cent during the past eight years, he said. Texas prisons are going a long way to paying their own way, Robertson declared, by running farms, doing much of their own building and other processes.

Besides the speaker, other visitors at the Wednesday luncheon included Gene Wagner of Brownwood; W. C. Blackburn of Stamford; W. C. Russell, Joe Huddleston Jr., Tyler Johnson and Austin Siburt of Hamlin.

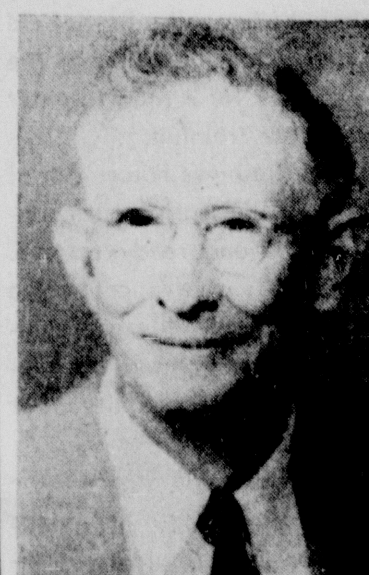

County TB Leaders Go To State Conference

Two Hamlin leaders of the movement against tuberculosis were in Austin Sunday to attend a meeting of the board of the Texas State Tuberculosis Association, meeting at the Driskoll Hotel.

Mrs. A. A. Hackley, who is a member of the state board, and Mrs. E. M. Wilson, former president of the Jones County TB Association, attended the session that made plans for the state organization's work for the coming year.

RETURN FROM VACATION.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Young returned last week-end from a several day visit and vacation with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pfeiffer, at Corpus Christi.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OF MARRIED BLISS were celebrated Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fletcher Sr. (above), who came to Jones County in 1908. They have lived on the same place for nearly 50 years, where they reared their family. The pioneers have been prominent in community, church and lodge affairs for years.

Attitude Sought In Vote on Return Of Meters in City

Something unusual in the way of voting is scheduled for Friday at Hamlin when people of the entire trade territory will have opportunity to express their feelings about parking meters in this Northwest Jones County metropolis.

Parking meters, long the center of discussion for the smaller city, had come up for concerted action about five weeks ago when a group of Hamlin business men petitioned the City Council to remove the meters from the streets of downtown for a trial period of six weeks. The petition alleged that the meters were hurting trade in town.

The meters were removed for a trial period, it being understood that a referendum would be staged during that time to ascertain feelings of the people of the region on whether they should be returned to service August 1 or allowed to remain inactive until January 1.

Balloting will be conducted at the Hamlin High School building, two blocks west of Central Avenue (Hamlin's main street) from 8:00 a. m. till 5:00 p. m. Every adult in the Hamlin trade territory is eligible to vote. No poll tax or other credentials are necessary.

Marcus Fletcher Goes To Tech Band School

A Hamlin High School sophomore has been among the 273 high school band students from 39 communities who attended the annual Texas Technological College summer band school which ended Friday at Lubbock.

The three-week course included classes in baton twirling and marching in addition to musical instruction. The school was in charge of Dr. Dewey O. (Prof.) Wiley, Tech bands director.

Marcus Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Watts Fletcher of Hamlin, attended the school. He plays baritone in the Hamlin Pled Pipe Band.

No Cause of Big Gin Blaze Ascertained

No cause has been determined for the $40,000 fire that Friday afternoon practically destroyed gin plant of the Producers Cooperative Gin. Damage has been estimated by Bill Smith of Abilene, owner, at $40,000.

Fire Marshal T. W. (Mickey) McGuire declared first of the week, after several days of investigation, that several possible causes have been advanced, but that evidence so far shows no definite origin of the fire.

The blaze was first discovered about 1:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, but apparently it had been underway for several hours, because when the alarm was sounded the conflagration was almost out of control, having eaten its way into the middle of the plant.

John O'Neal, owner of the plant, said he had smelled odor from a fire all morning. He had investigated his laundry premises several times as a source of the odor, not realizing that it was coming from the gin to the south.

Volunteers of the Hamlin Fire Department, directed by Chief Jack White, saved the gin office, cotton and seed houses.

The gin was probably 40 years old, being located west of the Santa Fe Railway depot and just northeast of the city water tower near the city pump station. It formerly had been known as the Harden Gin.

McGuire said the plant was insured for about $35,000.

Evangelist from Ohio Leading in Revival at Church of Nazarene

Beginning Wednesday evening of this week the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene began a series of evangelistic services that will continue through Sunday, July 29, according to the pastor, Rev. Donald Wellman.

Doing the preaching for the meeting is Rev. J. C. Crabtree of Springfield, Ohio, who has served in full time evangelism in the Church of the Nazarene since 1950. He is a commissioned evangelist on the Western Ohio District.

"An earnest and effective speaker, Rev. Crabtree stresses in his sermons the Wesleyan doctrine of heart purity," Pastor Wellman reports. "He has preached throughout the country in revivals, youth rallies, preachers' meetings and to college groups."

Services are being conducted at 10:00 a. m. and 7:45 each evening, and Rev. Wellman and his congregation invite the public to attend the services. Rev. and Mrs. Wellman are in charge of the music program.

Tate May Returns to Home After Operation

Tate May, president of Farmers & Merchants National Bank at Hamlin, returned to his home this week after several weeks in a hospital at Dallas, where he underwent major surgery.

Although still weak and "shaky in his walk," May is greatly improved. He visited at the bank downtown Tuesday.

FEAGANS HAVE VISITORS.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Feagan Sr. first part of last week were Mrs. Olivia Funk of Denver, Colorado, and Mrs. Otto Williams of Dalhart, sisters of Feagan. Also guests in the Feagan home were Mr. and Mrs. Martin McCain and daughter, Jeanne, of Houston.

VISITS IN WICHITA.

Loy D. Fry was in Wichita Falls Sunday for a visit with his son, L. D. Fry Jr., and family.

Probably 90 Per Cent of Area Farmers Expected to Sign in Soil Bank by Friday

Probably 90 per cent of Jones County cotton and wheat farmers were expected to be signed up for participation in the soil bank by the signing deadline Friday night, according to officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee office at Anson, when they were contacted Wednesday by a Herald reporter.

M. S. Jones, chairman of the ACS office, estimated that some 263,000 acres of cotton and wheat land of the approximate 400,000 total had been signed by Tuesday night after several days of rushing business at his office.

Limit on signing up for this acreage reserve program of the soil bank is July 20, and signature of the land-owner must be secured by August 31.

The extreme dry conditions which prevail over much of the region make it profitable for the wheat and cotton farmers of the area to take advantage of the soil bank program.

Under the cotton program, maximum acreage is 10 acres or 50 per cent, whichever is larger. For cotton land that is not planted the payment is 15 cents per pound for normal yield per acre, established for the farmer over a 10-year period.

Average yield for Jones County is 118 pounds per acre, Jones said. The individual farm yield will run from 50 pounds to 150 pounds per acre, and the Jones County farms are set up in five groups: 50, 75, 100, 125 and 150 pounds.

Four new citizens have been recorded at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital since last week's report in The Herald. Two boys and two girls, they are:

A boy for Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin of Spur was born July 16 at 3:50 p. m. Weighing eight pounds even at birth, he has been named James Michael.

A girl arrived July 13 at 4:35 p. m. for Mr. and Mrs. Gean Witt of Hamlin. After having her weight checked at seven pounds five ounces she accepted the name Cynthia Kay.

A boy for Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Gann of Anson discovered America July 14 at 4:15 p. m. He said the label James Kenneth would suit him after balancing the scales at seven pounds eight ounces.

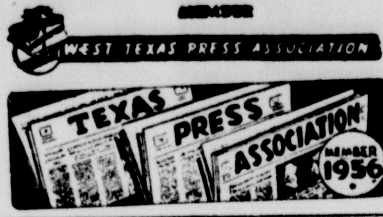

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kiker of Roby July 14 at 8:40 p. m. The lightweight of the new arrivals at five pounds 10 ounces, the little miss approved her name of Sherri Denise.

WHY WE NEED A READY ARMED RESERVE

The Army's all-important mission is to uphold the interests of the United States, in a shooting war, in cold war or in peace. During times of peace its major mission is to deter aggression. To successfully deter aggression, its ability to fight and win must be so convincing that any potential enemy knows in advance that aggression on his part would not pay.

This ability is not measured in terms of weapons, equipment, and active forces alone. It is also based to a very great extent on the existence of a trained, fully equipped and manned ready reserve. One cannot over-emphasize the need for a trained reserve. We must at all times recognize that the tools of war, however vital a role they may play in any conflict, are useless without men who are trained to use them.

The very nature of global war decrees that the Army become increasingly flexible and mobile. It also decrees that a high state of preparedness exist at all times in both our active and reserve forces. Our Army, like the age it is a part of, is constantly changing. It is forever developing new tools and new techniques, and its men must know how to use and apply them.

No longer can we afford to spend long months after a conflict begins in preparing our reserves for their vital role. This training must be timely and continuous. Those of us who have shared life on the battlefield know all too well that it is neither fair to the individual nor his country for a man to enter combat without adequate training.

Today—through the Reserves Forces Act of 1955—we have a means of assuring our country of a strong, reliable and ready reserve. This act offers the youth of this country a means of discharging their military obligations without disrupting their careers or education—an unprecedented opportunity that every young man should seize.

To the employer who cooperates in the training program it offers among other things a better satisfied labor force, more responsible employees, and fewer men required to be away from the job for 30 to 45 days of annual training. To the United States it offers the assurance of a fully manned, well equipped and adequately trained ready reserve.

The size of our active Army and the future of this nation rest upon the success of our reserve program. To insure posterity the same blessings of democracy which we cherish it is necessary that the youth of America be aware of their responsibility to their government and meet it faithfully.

He Was Freedom Builder

If ever the world is wrecked by atomic desolation and archaeologists research the ruins of the American republic, 30 or 40 centuries later, one name will be found standing forth greater than all of the idealists, builders and statesmen of history.

George Washington was not an accident; he was descended from ancestors bred in church morality and with respect for common law. His name was of power to rally a nation, a beacon to cheer and guide its founders, a loadstone to attract a whole people's confidence and a whole world's respect.

Washington's sublime virtues ceased to be abstractions when embodied in practical applications. Success crowned his efforts, as if Providence had endowed him to be not only father of his country but commander-in-chief of the "new order of the ages."

If the world had followed the teachings of his philosophy and the admonitions of his "Farewell Address" and the chaos and confusion now raging over the earth would be unknown.

On the Side of Freedom

The local newspaper is a personal diary of a community's life. This is especially true of the country papers, of which there are many thousands in the United States. These papers are free to express their point of view on any issue or question of public or private interest, subject only to the reservations imposed by the libel law.

Their right to criticize their government was established over 200 years ago in what was then a British colonial town now known as New York City. This country's smaller newspapers are a tremendous asset on the side of freedom, possessed by no other nation. The strong local appeal of the small town newspaper assures unusual readership interest.

Amid all the modern developments in the field, the newspaper retains its position as one of the most effective advertising mediums. All of us have a tremendous stake in the continued health and independence of our thousands of newspapers. It is reassuring to find that they rest on such a solid foundation, both culturally in the minds and hearts of the readers, and economically in the support of advertisers.

A man may be better than his reputation, but never better than his principles.

Bad News for Taxpayers

In 1955 the state Legislatures set a new record—and one which is bad news for the taxpayer. According to the Tax Foundation, possibly as many as 3,000 new tax laws were passed. A large proportion involved increases in taxes—on personal incomes, on business, on gasoline and motor vehicles, and so on.

Hope is held out for some reduction in federal taxes in 1956. That will be of small cheer if it is offset, or largely so, by increased local taxation. The point is that we must keep a weather eye on the state house and the city hall—as well as the national capital.

Editorial of the Week

GODLESS PRAYERS

From San Rafael, California, comes word that the superintendent of schools announced that hereafter the grace prayers in schools must omit the name of God. It seems that a Mr. Newby there objected to his five-year-old son being dismissed from kindergarten when he refused to say grace with the other children. The grace prayer the children were saying was a verified thank offering to God. Mr. Newby contended that if he wanted his child taught religion he would put him in a church school. As a result of the controversy the name of God is to be left out of the prayers.

What kind of a prayer is it that would leave out God? Prayer is the sincere desire of the heart expressed or unexpressed toward someone. If there be no God, then where is there someone in a position to hear and answer prayer? If the desire is not God-ward, how could it be prayer in any sense of the word? Moderns laugh when they read of the Balaamites lancing their veins and crying out to Baal on Mount Carmel, but at least they were trying to call on someone they believed superior to themselves. Even a prayer to an idol would make more sense than one offered to the nothingness of space.

California can usually be counted on to come up with some new idea, but it is usually an evil one. However, this new system of praying without addressing God is really something new; and to think that it is being done in a schoolroom where children are supposed to be taught the truth. How long will it be before people will realize that Jesus Christ is the truth and that no true learning omits Him?—The Baptist Standard.

Oil Operators Advised Joint Operations Must Be Filed in Tax Return

Oil operators who are parties to joint operating agreements are required to file a federal partnership tax return on Form 1065 on or before August 21, 1956, according to A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer of the Abilene office of Internal Revenue Service.

The new partnership regulations, promulgated in final form on May 23, 1956, under revenue act of 1954, require a vast number of oil operators to file these returns. Many oil operators may elect in this return to exclude the joint operating agreement from the partnership regulations. However, failure to file the return and make the election will result in the venture being treated for income tax purposes as a partnership for all future years, Fogle explains in a release to The Herald.

Bobbie Bruner, Bride-Elect, Honored at Gift Tea Tuesday

A gift tea honoring Bobbie Bruner, bride-elect of Charles Rowland, was given in the home of Mrs. Ed Johnson last Tuesday evening, from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock.

The honoree was presented a corsage of white roses by the hostesses.

Mrs. Ed Johnson greeted the guests at the door and presented them to Bobbie, the honoree; Mrs. Eli Bruner, mother of the bride-to-be; Mrs. J. A. Rowland, mother of the groom-to-be; and Nita Jay Rowland.

Mrs. Gladys Nelson directed guests into the dining room, where the bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used in decorations. The table was laid with a lace cloth over blue. The centerpiece was of white gladiolas and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Bill Thompson, Mrs. L. B. Bruner, Mrs. Lewis Johnson and Mrs. Johnnie Wood assisted in the dining room, where punch and cake iced in blue and white were served in keeping with the bride's chosen colors.

Mrs. James Wood was at the register. Mrs. Leonard Johnson and Mrs. Archie Carson displayed and showed the gifts to attendants.

Mrs. Roy Bruner said the good-byes.

County Agent Gives Pointers on Tasty Use of Left-Over Foods

Don't feed your garbage pails—prepare the right amounts for family meals so there will not be a lot of food left over, suggests Mary Newberry, home demonstration agent for Jones County.

Save the vitamins and minerals in vegetables by using proper cooking methods, she continues. Cook in the skin or pare thinly. Cook quickly in a covered pan containing just enough boiling salted water to cover. Use left-over cooking water for soups, gravies and sauces. Use canned vegetable and fruit juices, too.

Prevent unnecessary food spoilage. Store fresh foods promptly. Most vegetables and fruits keep best in the refrigerator.

Save left-over fats. Use them to season vegetables, for frying, for making cornbread, griddle cakes or for gravies and soups.

Use left-over bread for crumbs for scalloped dishes, breading meats and vegetables and for extending meat for patties and loaves.

Sometimes it is good economy to buy a larger cut of meat and use it in different ways for more than one meal. Use left-over meats for hash, meat cakes, meat pies, chop suey, casserole dishes with rice, macaroni, stuffing for green peppers, salads, etc.

Retarded Children and Parents Being Given New Attitudes by Cooperation

Within the last few years there has been a great upsurge of interest in retarded children, declares Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D., AP Newsfeatures writer. Her release continues:

Society finally has come to realize that these children and also their parents can be helped to a degree of happiness never before thought possible. It is no longer necessary to hide away a retarded child. Parents of such children have banded together and formed associations.

By frank and open discussions they help each other, and by combined action they are succeeding in improving the community facilities for better care and education of children who cannot profit by the usual school facilities.

However, the knowledge that one of their own children is not normal comes as a great shock to any parents.

Sometimes retardation is of a type that can be diagnosed soon after birth, and the parents are told immediately that their child will not develop in the usual way. Sometimes retardation is not suspected until much later, when the child fails to develop the skills we expect as growth progresses.

But whenever the knowledge comes to the parents it comes as a terrific blow that no parent adjusts to without a good deal of inner torment. Most parents go through more or less the same stages of anguish before their finally come to realization that life has dealt them this blow and that it presents a challenge that can be met.

After the initial shock is past many parents refuse to accept the fact, insisting, "This couldn't happen to us." Mr. and Mrs. Johnson quite naturally wanted another doctor's opinion, but after the second and the third and the fourth doctor all had given more or less the same verdict, they still hoped all the doctors were wrong.

As time went on, Mrs. Johnson finally began to accept the fact that Sally was slower than other children. She wouldn't take Sally anywhere for fear of what people would think. She even hesitated to get a baby sitter, so she sat at home and stewed in her troubles. Her irritability made things rough on her relationship to her husband.

At the urging of their doctor the Johnsons went one evening to a meeting of the local chapter of the National Association of Retarded Children. There they met other parents who had faced up to a problem like theirs.

"Why, some of those people actually seemed happy," said Mrs. Johnson in utter amazement.

That evening was a turning point for the Johnsons. They began reading the literature supplied by the association; they talked with other parents and began making some constructive plans for Sally.

The National Association for Retarded Children has its main office at 129 East 52nd Street, New York. A list of local chapters may be obtained from the national headquarters.

DRESS UP SALADS.

Outline the inside edges of small lettuce cups with sliced radishes, scallop fashion. Fill the cups with chicken salad and sprinkle with paprika.

There's the same amount of protein in a rounded half cup of creamed cottage cheese as there is in three ounces of cooked lean meat or poultry.

Mrs. Tommie Greenway presided at the tea table.

Alert Furniture Industry Helping to Add New Decorator Appeal to Homes

Home, they say, is what you make it, and the homemaker today is getting heaps of help from a hep furniture industry.

Its aim is to bring decorator type furniture with a future into your home and emphasize its versatility for double purpose use.

The new general trend in style seems to be furniture that has a feeling of lightness. This seems evident in new pieces shown at the big semi-annual international home furnishings market beginning June 18 at Chicago.

Some 40,000 furniture buyers and manufacturers from 48 states and many foreign countries attended the show.

Wallace O. Oilman, general manager of the Merchandise Mart, where part of the show is held, says the demand for furniture is a record high.

"Furniture store sales during the first quarter ran nine per cent ahead of last year," he said.

Design influences from around the world are revealed in the new furniture introduced. There are interpretations of Italian Provincial Scandinavian, Early American and new 18th Century treatments.

The modern styles have warmth and decorative interest with rounded lines, wood parquetry and combinations of textures and materials in single pieces.

Leather and printed fabrics are readily combined. Rare woods are used freely. The use of distressed finished mahogany for modern furniture is an example of a departure from the usual. Another wood finish is called Afritan, a rich, spicy brown.

An American cherry group designed by Sanford Wallack is called Concept. It lends a slight Provincial feeling to a casual contemporary setting. Cherry chests are as much at home in a dining room as in a bedroom.

This trend to correlate pieces enables a homemaker to rearrange furniture to suit homemaking demands, whether the need is for the present or future.

The heaviness of Provincial is trimmed by utilizing tapered legs on tables, chairs, sofas and chests.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford, Manager, Texas Press Association.
Austin.—Income and expense reports of candidates show Daniel, Alkin and Wilson leading in both receipts and expenditures in their respective fields.

U. S. Senator Price Daniel was far out in front in financial support. He listed contributions totaling $112,849.

Other gubernatorial contenders' kitties stacked up thusly: Reuben Senterfitt, $31,772; Ralph Yarborough, $23,865; W. Lee O'Daniel, $1,770.

Senator A. M. Alkin Jr. led in the lieutenant governor's race with $19,657 in contributions, as compared with $8,125 for Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey, and $6,003 for John Lee Smith.

Will Wilson was far ahead of the pack in the attorney general's race, reporting financial support totaling $21,021.

On the expenditure side of the ledger the leaders held the same positions. In the governor's race Daniel spent $82,474; Senterfitt, $32,061; Yarborough, $25,826; and O'Daniel, $20,569.

Among the candidates for lieutenant governor, Alkin reported expenses of $12,244.82; Ramsey, $7,003; and Smith, $8,583.05.

Wilson again outdistanced his competitors in the campaign for attorney general with a total expenditure of $10,862.

State Health Department officials believe Salk shots enabled Texans to avert a bad polio year.

Pre-season incidence of polio, they point out, was unusually high this year—224 cases as compared to 167 in 1955. But as the season progressed immunization was stepped up. Since April 28 there have been only 269 cases compared to 375 in the same period last year.

"This would have been a major polio year," said one official. "Salk vaccine apparently is the answer as to why it isn't."

Texas farm income thus far in 1956 has slid 13 per cent from last year.

Inadequate moisture was the major cause.

Prices were off only three per cent. Therefore, most of the drop came from smaller marketings.

State officials took note of the farmers' worsening plight. Governor Allan Shivers announced the U. S. Department of Agriculture has approved extension of the emergency drought feed program for 64 counties.

A request for direct payments to enable drought-hit farmers to purchase hay on the open market was turned over to the state defense and disaster relief office.

It came from the Texas Farm Bureau president, who said the present federal program is inadequate.

John White, state agriculture commissioner, said the state's rural economy, in many areas, is in the final stages of collapse.

Worst towns are in the making in the heart of some of our richest agricultural lands, he said.

Last week's widely scattered rain brought only temporary relief to some Southwest Texas areas, reported the Agricultural Extension Service. In most sections, said the service, drought is spreading. Result: Feed crops are being lost and livestock sold off in large numbers.

Continued complaints of creek damming were reported by the State Water Board last week as evidence of Texas' mounting water troubles.

One of the most critical areas now is at Llano, said the board. Irrigators were asked to limit their withdrawals from the nearly dry Llano River.

Communities along the river have priority, said the board. Some, such as Junction and Llano, have said they have only a 30 to 60-day supply.

Other areas from which complaints of damming were sent to the board included Wolf Creek and Groesbeck Creek on the Red River, Blanco River in Blanco County, Caney Creek near Bay City, and Elm Creek in Milam County.

Meanwhile, the water board had another problem. After a 12-day recess, hearings were to resume Tuesday in the Canyon Dam controversy. San Antonio's request for water from the proposed dam is vigorously opposed by nearby rural communities.

If the State Board of Education adopts its study committee's proposals, future diplomas will come a little harder for Texas high school students.

Suggestions included: (1) two years instead of one of laboratory science, (2) a half unit more of government or history, (3) making physical education and health non-credit courses, and (4) limiting athletic practice during school hours.

Texas citizens still have the right to file criminal complaints against anyone violating bus segregation laws.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd has reiterated his official opinion that a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision did not invalidate Texas law in this area.

"Any citizen may file a complaint against any bus driver or other person failing to comply with these laws," said Shepperd.

His statement came in response to a query from Representative Joe Pool of Dallas. There, as in several other Texas cities, enforcement efforts have been virtually abandoned since the high court ruling.

Short Shorts.—A warning to future holiday motorists came from the Department of Public Safety after Texas led the nation in July 4 fatalities. Colonel Homer Garrison said heavy traffic and fast driving caused Texas highway deaths to soar to 15, more than double the predicted six.

Marketing of the 1956 Texas cotton crop could be delayed by a strike-caused shortage of steel bands used in baling. Texas stocks are critically low, according to the State Agriculture Department. . . . Texas' August draft call is for 639 men, compared to 641 in July, says State Selective Service headquarters. Also in August draft boards will be called on for about 1,134 men to take physical and mental examinations for future draft quotas. . . . State Capitol Columnist Raymond Brooks has received some much deserved recognition. The political writer for the Austin American won the State Bar's

Booklet on Claims for Federal Gas Tax Now Available to Farmers

A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer in charge for the Internal Revenue Service, this week announced availability of a 15-page IRS booklet designed to help farmers file claims for refund of federal tax paid on gasoline for farming purposes.

Titled "Publication 308," the free instruction book explains in simple language how to claim a refund of the tax on gasoline used during the six-month period January 1 through June 30, 1956.

It also tells how the new law relieves farmers from federal excise taxes on diesel and special motor fuels.

Refund claims are to be filed between July 1 and October 1. Publication 308" and gas tax refund forms may be obtained from the Dallas District IRS office, at Abilene or from county agricultural agents, according to Fogle.

"My husband has the strangest hobby," said Mrs. Smith to a friend, "and I never knew anything about it until yesterday. I found in his desk a queer looking ticket inscribed 'Mudhorse, 10 to 1.' I asked him what it was and he told me it was a relic of a lost race. Isn't that interesting?"

Mack R. Collins of Hawley Reappointed To FHA Committee by State Official

Mack R. Collins of Route 1, Hawley, was reappointed to the Farmers Home Administration committee for Jones County this week, Leonard C. Williams, local supervisor for the agency, announced. The appointment was made by Walter T. McKay, state director at Dallas.

Collins operates a livestock farm near Hawley. He was appointed last year to fill the unexpired term vacated by Claude Young of Route 1, Stamford. Since Collins had served less than one year, he was reappointed for a full term.

Other two members of the committee are C. A. Baucum Jr., of Route 2, Anson and Glenn E. Odell of Lueders farmers and stockmen of their respective communities.

The committee determines the eligibility of local farmers who apply for Farmers Home Administration loans. They also certify as to the value of farms being purchased or improved through FHA loans, and make recommendations on loan approvals and loan servicing actions. Advice of the committeemen is sought on good farm management and on the refinancing of FHA loans when borrowers build up enough equity in their property to get credit from local banks or other lenders.

The county supervisor relies on the advice of the committee in connection with all types of loans. These include farm operating loans, loans to buy, improve or enlarge efficient family type farms in this area, and loans to establish and carry on approved soil and water conservation practices, including improving permanent pastures, terracing, soil erosion measures, farmstead water systems, irrigation, drainage and many other conservation practices.

Six from Cafeterias Staff at Schools Go to Texas Tech Workshop

Six members of the school cafeteria staff of Hamlin Schools were among 306 school food service representatives who attended the five-day workshop at Texas Technological College at Lubbock last week.

Twenty-seven food specialists from seven states conducted more than 80 sessions on new developments in food preparation, meal service, food buying, meal planning and related subjects.

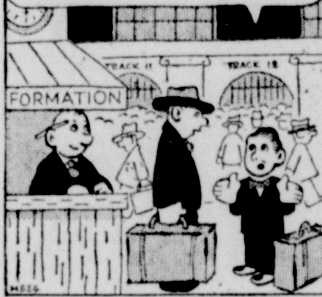

The Tech home economics division sponsored the conference in cooperation with the Texas Education Agency and U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Registered for the workshop from Hamlin were Mrs. Cecil Brown, Mrs. Mattie Conner, Mrs. Edd Rodgers, Mrs. Eva Eades, Mrs. Bernie Smith and Mrs. Viola Petty.

West Texas Fair at Abilene to Be Revived At New Show Center

The West Texas Fair will be revived in Abilene September 10 to 14 after a five-year lapse while waiting for a new exposition center.

It will be held at the recently completed Taylor County Exposition Center and will have a whopping $18,454.25 premium list.

The fair was de-activated after the 1950 show until more adequate facilities could be built to handle the continually increasing fair crowds.

In announcing the premium list, Fair President John A. Wright of Abilene said that the board of directors is anxious to once again make the annual event the outstanding success it was for 50 years. "With the new and modern facilities, and the extra large premium list, we hope to make this revision an outstanding success for West Texas," Wright said.

DELAYED FORTUNE.

"How do you mean?" queried the neighbor.

"Well," replied the widow, "when they dug his grave they struck oil!"

Abolish the Evil Tax Law Now!

Recently I proposed abolition of the progressive income tax. I suggested its replacement with a flat rate tax on income with a top limit of 22½%, plus a Federal sales tax. I pointed out that not only would this form of tax encourage greater investment, greater risk, harder work and larger incomes for all—it would also not necessarily reduce the tax collections by the government. The Federal government will even collect more in taxes with lower rates.

Figures from the past show why this would probably occur. In the National Review of March 28 there is an article advocating a 25 per cent limit on income taxes. It contains some highly significant figures.

They show that in 1925 the maximum income tax rate was 40 per cent and the maximum personal exemption $2,500. Total income tax collections in 1925 were $2,584,140,000. The next year the top tax rate was dropped to 24 per cent and the personal exemption was increased to $3,000. But tax collections increased from $2,584,140,000 to $2,836,000,000. Thus with lower rates for higher income groups and greater exemptions for lower groups the revenue department collected more money.

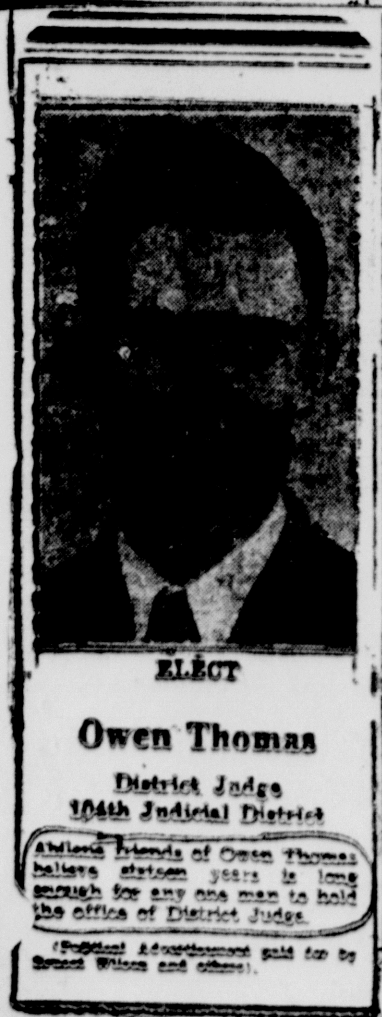

In 1927 the top tax rate remained at 24 per cent but personal exemptions were increased to $3,500 taking more lower income people off the tax rolls. Again the revenue collections increased. They went to $2,865,683,000. Next in 1928 the top tax rate was again dropped to 20 per cent. The exemption remained the same. This further reduction in rates caused only a slight dip in collections amounting to $75,147,000. The next year at those lowered rates, however, the revenue bureau again gained more revenue. It collected $2,939,054,000. And still at those same lower rates in 1930, the tax take rose to the highest level of all, although at half the rates in 1925. It reached $3,040,146,000.

These figures prove conclusively that a drop in tax rates does not automatically mean a drop in the revenue. More often than not it means an increase in tax collections. Canada tried this in recent years and it paid off. It pays off because at lower rates people try to earn more so they can keep more. They risk more because if the risk pays off they can profit more. They work harder, spend more, build more and employ more because they don't have to share such a large proportion of the fruits of their labor and investment with the government. But by earning more and profiting more and employing more they pay more taxes even at lower tax rates.

In my opinion right now would be a good time to try that kind of tax policy again. Save the working man from becoming an economic slave. $1,500 exemption for each person. A family of four making $6,000 will not pay taxes. The working man and the independent business man deserves a fair deal. God willing, we shall abolish this terrible injustice where the middle and low income tax group is giving its money to the government without any strings attached, and paying most of the bills. Then our politicians turn around and give it to our foreign friends to keep them liking us and from joining the Russians.

HOW LONG SHOULD "ANY ONE MAN HOLD THE OFFICE OF DISTRICT JUDGE?"

When My Opponent, who has now held the office for Sixteen Years, first sought the office, his beliefs were, as shown by the reprints of his political advertising in the Abilene Reporter-News, "SIXTEEN YEARS is long enough for ANY ONE MAN to hold the office of District Judge" and "a change would be RIGHT DEMOCRATIC and PROPER." Have his beliefs changed? Ask him?

than 15 acres has been established and all other persons who will have such an interest in a wheat crop seeded for 1957 harvest in excess of 15 acres will be eligible to vote in the referendum. Both the farmers and his wife are eligible to vote.
If two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum approve marketing quotas, marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1957 crop and the wheat price support rate will be at a national average of $2 per bushel to those who comply with farm wheat allotments, and the unit rate for determining payments under the 1957 wheat acreage reserve of the soil bank will be 60 per cent of $2 or $1.20 per bushel national average with the usual differentials for local areas.

If more than one-third of the growers voting in the referendum on July 20 disapprove marketing quotas, the marketing quotas will not be in effect and the 1957 support rate will be 50 per cent of parity, or approximately $1.20 per bushel national average to those who comply with their wheat allotments, and the unit rate for determining payments under the 1957 wheat acreage reserve of the soil bank will be 60 per cent of the support rate, or approximately 75 cents per bushel national average with the usual differentials for local areas.

Any person who desires additional information may call at the ASC office and any point not clear concerning the quotas will be explained, Cook stated.

"We will not attempt," says Cook, "to influence voting either for or against wheat quotas, but we do urge every eligible wheat farmer to vote in the referendum in order that the outcome may reflect the desire of the majority of wheat farmers."

SOIL BANK

For land that has been planted and totally destroyed, a flat rate figure of $6 per acre is set.

Under the wheat program, land may qualify that was not seeded or was not harvested because of adverse weather conditions.

This wheat land must be left idle. Land must not have been grazed since June 22 and if small grain is planted next fall for 1957 harvest, it must not be grazed before January 1, 1957.

Wheat land is limited to 50 per cent or 50 acres, whichever is the larger, with $6 per acre for land that was not harvested and $4 per acre for that not seeded.

Despite No Car Deaths In District in June, Motorists Cautioned

In summing up the rural motor vehicle accidents for June, 1956, and the first six months of 1956, Captain G. L. Morahan of the Abilene Highway Patrol District, said "Motorists must help hold the line. We did not have a traffic death in the 13-county patrol district during June, although one died on July 1 that was injured in June."

Captain Morahan said that with the increase in volume of traffic, increase in accidents, increase in injuries during the first six months of 1956, and even though there is one death less than during the first six months of 1955, there is still need for grave concern, as potentially any accident may be fatal.

The "big toll" months are still ahead, he cautioned, therefore motorists must assist. "Cooperate with your fellow driver, drive defensively, avoid driving when fatigued, and let's kill less people in traffic than last year!"

There were no fatalities until the fourteenth century.

Are You a Home-Towner? Do You Buy From Your Friendly Local Merchants?

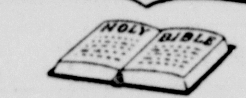

HOLD TIGHT!

Ever find yourself caught out in the middle of a storm with your umbrella blowing itself inside out?

There you are, clinging like mad to that frail bit of cloth and metal... and you realize that if the wind gets one whit stronger your "protection" is going to blow right out of your hands.

Fortunately, it doesn't hurt to get wet, so losing your umbrella wouldn't be much of a tragedy. But when you're caught in one of the other types of storms life deals out... a storm that buffets at your inner sense of security... or your idea of right or wrong... a storm that tries to undermine your marriage, or your career... or a storm of sickness or strife... then it's a very different matter.

How fortunate that in those more difficult moments, you don't have to rely upon something as flimsy as an umbrella. How fortunate that you can turn to the Church and find in it solace, protection, courage, and the faith to keep going. You will find that the Church is a shelter that will always protect you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Small Cities, Says Roger Babson, Come Into Own as Industries Leaving Centers

Small cities is the topic of discussion this week of the release to The Herald from Roger W. Babson, internationally known economist and analyst for conditions of the world. He has this to say:

I am writing this from room 15-T on the fifteenth floor of the Waldorf Astoria, overlooking New York City. I have supplemented my talks with leading authorities. I am told that what I see from this window will some day be destroyed; but it is very hard for me to accept.

I like small cities. This is nothing against large cities. Both have their usefulness. In fact, large cities usually have some great national advantage, such as nearness to water power, like Buffalo or Minneapolis; or location at the junction of two rivers, like St. Louis; or at the outlet of a river, like New Orleans; or having a wonderful harbor, like New York. Nothing can prevent such fortunately located cities from always being great, even if vulnerable. But today I must tell you why I like small cities.

The H-bomb and guided missiles will postpone World War III; but scriptures teach that there will be at least one more war some day; and it will be the worst one of all. Just now, much is appearing in newspapers and magazines regarding the prospects for peace. Civil defense has never taken hold; and it is very difficult to interest people in it at present. It seems to me that England,

France and Russia are lulling us to sleep with their "big four conference."

Now speculators are crazy about uranium as an agent which will be switched to peace uses and thus protect the United States from the H-bomb. Without doubt uranium has many useful possibilities; but these discussions will soon be forgotten as the American people have very short memories. However, the world supply of uranium is very large and is well scattered throughout the leading nations and their possessions.

Certainly most nations will be making H-bombs which can be used for "blackmailing" purposes and for attempting to get what they want without World War II. All the above will result in further inflation and continued high taxes. Some day one of these "blackmailing" threats may be "called" and some large cities will be bombed. Then several million innocent citizens in these cities could be killed.

All the above could result in a continued movement of families and industries out of the large cities into the smaller communities. These small cities—when located not too near a big city—should have a great future. Many young people will prefer to live in one of these smaller communities, both from a safety standpoint and also to profit by their growth.

Decentralization of industries is also underway. Few manufacturing plants in the big cities are enlarging within those cities; they are building supplemental plants in smaller places. This factor of decentralization will greatly benefit small communities. The big cities are getting more vulnerable to war dangers, labor troubles and high costs. Corporations are finding it easier to raise money for capital expenditures in the small cities, rather than the large cities. In the end, bankers and investors determine locations.

I forecast that the prices of the stocks of companies with all their assets in big, vulnerable cities may decline; while those with their assets in big, vulnerable cities may not. My belief is that downtown real estate values in some of the large cities may be at their peak, but that in the smaller cities such real estate is still a purchase. In addition to the factors above, let me remind readers of the curse of the automobile and the downtown parking problem in large cities. Good roads, however, are helping the small cities, which should profit by President Eisenhower's proposal for expending $101,000,000 for good roads.

Workers in the smaller cities have a high character, are intelligent, and may give more thought to the ultimate consumer. Owing to the lower cost of living in the smaller cities, there are fewer labor troubles where management is reasonable. Labor has less turn-over in these smaller cities. To avoid the handicaps mentioned above, the large cities should get solidly behind the new federal urban development program.

WHO CAN DO IT?

A violinist stopped in a London music shop and asked for an E string. Placing a large bunch of strings before the customer, the storekeeper remarked:

Safety Officials Warns Texas Motorists To Give Plenty of Time for Vacations

"Don't turn your vacation dream into a nightmare!"

E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, gave this warning to motorists in outlining the goals of the vacation safe driving program being sponsored this month in Texas by the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"A dream of a vacation can become a nightmare in just a matter of seconds for a driver who sets out to cover too much territory in too little time," he said.

McFadden pointed out that the motorist who is trying to drive an unwise schedule is too prone to take chances, to set aside caution and press down on the accelerator without regard for prevailing traffic, weather, roadway or even his own fatigued physical condition.

He advised vacationers to start early in the day and to stop in time in the evening for a good night's rest before beginning the next lap of their journey.

"It's also wise," he said, "to provide time for frequent rest stops along the route—periodic coffee breaks or a walk in the open air to relax taut nerves and tired muscles."

Motorists were urged to take a tip from safety minded commercial trucking companies, which insist that their drivers stop occasionally for coffee, and, if sleepy, for a brisk walk around the truck before continuing.

McFadden also emphasized the following rules:

1. Before starting out, be sure your car is in perfect mechanical condition.

2. Space driving with adequate rest periods—always be alert at the wheel.

3. Know what to expect. Learn the driving regulations of the states you'll be driving through before you start your trip.

4. Load your car carefully. Be sure your baggage and equipment are loaded so that it cannot shift dangerously or obstruct vision in any way.

"And," said McFadden, "we hope that all our drivers will keep their real goal in mind—to arrive back home again alive."

Hamlin Boy Scouts and Leaders to Host Cyclist Group Making Overnight Stop

Hamlin Boy Scouts and others will be hosts to a crew of bicycling Boy Scouts of the Chisholm Trail Council, who will conduct a bicycle calavade next week in this section, according to Weldon Johnson, local Scoutmaster. The group will arrive in town next Thursday afternoon about 4:00 o'clock.

Cities Service Posts Lowered Price in Area For Crude Oil Bought

Hamlin area oil production was affected when a downward adjustment of seven cents a barrel in its posted price for crude oil in West Central Texas counties was announced last week-end by Cities Service Oil Company at Dallas.

The price cut became effective Sunday.

Counties with production affected are Callahan, Coleman, Fisher, Jones, Nolan, Runtels, Shackelford and Taylor. Cities Service is estimated to buy about 35,000 barrels daily in the counties.

The company said the new price scale will be $2.83 a barrel for 40-gravity crude and above against the previous price of $2.90.

The announcement said the reduction was being made to bring the price in line with West Texas intermediate crude produced in the same general area which has "approximately the same refining value."

Clyde Carroll Buys Hamlin Oil Company, Cosden Distributor

Clyde Carroll has purchased the Hamlin Oil Company from Mrs. Dub Burgess. It has been announced this week. The concern is the wholesale and retail dealer for Cosden oil products and related lines.

Carroll, who had operated the Gulf Service Station at the corner of Lake Drive and Central Avenue for many years until recently, is an experienced petroleum products man.

In addition to Cosden oil products, Carroll will handle Veedol, X-Cel batteries and Mansfield tires and other auto accessories and supplies.

Hamlin Oil Company is located at the intersection of Highway 83 and 57 at the McCaulley on South Central Avenue.

The calavade is made up of about 35 Boy Scouts of Jones, Haskell, Shackelford and Taylor Counties are making a cycling tour of the Northern District of the Chisholm Trail Council.

The boys are packing their bedding, emergency kits and eating equipment aboard their bicycles.

Itinerary of the boys follows: Leave Abilene Monday morning; spend Monday night at Anson; Tuesday night at Stamford; Wednesday night at Haskell; Thursday night at Hamlin; and disperse Friday evening at Sweetwater.

Shortly after arrival at Hamlin next Thursday the cyclists will go to the Hamlin City Park, where they will enjoy a swim with Hamlin Boy Scouts. Then supper will be served for all the group and adult leaders. After spending the night at the park the boys will have their breakfasts Friday morning in Hamlin cafes as a courtesy of local Scout leaders before hitting the road for Sweetwater.

Area Milk Producers To Get $5.85 per 100 For June Production

Producers supplying milk to Central West Texas handlers, including a number from the Hamlin territory, will receive $5.85 per 100 pound (4.0 per cent) for base milk during June, according to announcement by Hyord W. Bain, market administrator.

The base price of $5.85 per 100 for base milk is subject to the usual location differentials for various towns other than Abilene.

Central West Texas producers delivered 11,594,828 pounds of base milk and 1,938,319 pounds of excess milk, or a total of 13,533,247 pounds during June. Total delivered base milk exceeded the volume of producer milk classified as Class I, resulting in 1,626,225 pounds of base milk being classified as Class II.

Congressman Burleson Visits in City Friday In Reelection Drive

Congressman Omar Burleson was a visitor in Hamlin Friday of last week campaigning for reelection.

The congressman is making a tour of his district, which includes the counties of Callahan, Comanche, Eastland, Erath, Fisher, Hamilton, Jones, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Stephens and Taylor.

Burleson says he hopes to be able to spend a little time in every town and community between now and the primary election on July 28.

He returned from Washington on Saturday, July 7, where his duties as chairman of the house administration committee and important legislation action kept him until then.

EASY TIMING.

A motorist was driving through a remote section of the country and, after stopping in a small village for something to eat, noticed that his wrist watch had stopped. As he paused on the porch of the small cafe he turned to a native lounging nearby and said:

"I wonder if you could tell me what time it is?"

"It's twelve o'clock," drawled the other.

"Only twelve o'clock?" questioned the traveler. "I thought it was much more than that."

"It's never more than that around this part of the country," replied the native. "It goes up to twelve o'clock and then starts all over again."

Texas was really an amateur sport until 1926

VETERAN QUESTIONS

The questions and answers below about veteran problems are carried as a service to present and former service connected, personnel by The Herald. Material for this column is supplied by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

Question.—I am going to summer school under the World War II GI bill and my course ends August 31. Will I be allowed to finish, even though the July 25 wind-up of the program applies to me?

Answer.—The law prohibits you from training after July 25, 1956, under the GI bill. It does not provide for exceptions to allow veterans to finish their courses. You may, of course, continue your course after July 25 at your own expense.

Q.—If a serviceman dies in service, do his beneficiaries have a choice in type of payment of his indemnity?

A.—No. The indemnity is paid in only one way: One hundred and twenty monthly installments, with each installment at $9.29 per $1,000 of indemnity. It is only in past-service Korean GI insurance that a choice exists in payment of the proceeds.

Q.—As a service disabled veteran with an 80 per cent disability rating, I am drawing extra compensation because I have a 17-year-old son. He has just enlisted in the Marines. Will the extra payments continue, since he has not yet reached age 18?

A.—The extra payments may not be continued after he joins the Marines. Reason is that once he is in service, he no longer can be considered a legal member of your household for purpose of the extra compensation payments.

Q.—Is it necessary for a disabled Korea veteran to undergo vocational counseling before he begins vocational rehabilitation training under public law 894?

A.—Yes. The law requires vocational counseling for all disabled veteran trainees, in order to determine need for training, and in order to help the veteran choose a training program best suited to him.

PROVED RIGHT THERE.

Jones bought a business from an agent. After some months he failed, and meeting the agent some time later, he said:

"Do you remember selling me a business a few months ago?"

"Yes," replied the agent, "but what's the trouble? Isn't it as I represented it to be?"

"Oh, yes," said the other. "You said it was in a busy locality where there were plenty of passers-by."

"Well," queried the agent, "what is wrong with that?"

"There were too many passers-by."

Dan Kralis Urges Government Back To People in Visit

Dan Kralis of Abilene, candidate for Congress from the 17th District, composed of Jones and 11 other counties, visited Hamlin last Thursday and made a brief speech, urging voters "to bring the government back to us, the people."

The Taylor County candidate for the U. S. Representative post told a Herald reporter that he regretted he was unable to make a longer campaign stop here to personally meet and greet every voter in this community and the surrounding area.

"But that's quite impossible," Kralis grinned, explaining, "If I were to spend 30 minutes with every voter in the 17th Congressional District it would take me four and a half years, day and night without eating or sleeping to meet all the men and women of these 12 counties."

The big, friendly six-foot 200-pound congressional candidate said he was mighty pleased with the public response to his messages which have been appearing in his advertisements in the columns of The Herald, and said that he is a staunch defender of the freedom of the press.

Kralis, who is a keen student of government and economics, said that he decided to run for Congress last March and that he was seeking the office on a platform which, he declared, "concurs with the wishes of most of the citizens of the 17th Congressional District."

"Id on't know," replied her husband, scratching his head. "She isn't exactly the one I've been thinking about myself."

All people of voting age who trade in Hamlin are eligible to vote in the election. No poll tax or other credentials are necessary.

Moyne L. KELLY

Candidate for Reelection

State
Representative

and Dickens Counties)

To the Citizens of the 85th District:

GREETINGS FROM YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE!

It has been a great experience to represent you good people in the Legislature of Texas. I can assure you that it is a most sincere and serious job. The matter of passing laws or instituting legislation takes on many forms, if all of the people are represented. Laws are passed to protect, to improve, to establish, to prevent, to remove, to alleviate, to inaugurate, to restrain, and to help the greatest number of people in the Big State of Texas. If a legislator keeps these things in mind during his deliberations, he cannot be far from right when action is taken on legislative matters.

PAST:

1. During these two years that I have served as your representative, I have done my best to live, act, and work, so as to be worthy of your friendship, loyalty and confidence.

2. Thanks again and again, for the opportunity to serve you in the Texas Legislature, and for your many kindnesses and courtesies.

PRESENT:

1. Although I do not have an opponent this time, I am asking strongly for your votes on July 28, 1956. It will be worth much to me to have a full expression of your confidence.

2. Because I have not seen each of you personally, and solicited your vote, does not mean that I have slighted you or that my enthusiasm for this work has slackened the least bit.

3. Thanks for your vote on July 28, 1956.

FUTURE:

1. I am very much interested in what all of us in the 85th District can do to help ourselves, through legislation, and at the same time not hurt anybody outside of our district.

2. Let us take inventory of our RESOURCES, POSSIBILITIES and DREAMS during the next five months and work together to set up in our district a program of improvement and development that might be implemented, in any way, by legislative action.

Faith Methodist Pastor Speaks at Lions Club Session

Message and mission of the Christian church today is to help man develop the philosophy of the proper relationship to God, declared Rev. H. W. Adair, new pastor of the Faith Methodist Church in Hamlin, when he spoke at the Tuesday noon luncheon of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

The young minister pointed to the value of man, asserting that although chemically man is worth only $1.96, his real value is ascertained by his relationship to others and the rest of the world. He said the motivating factors of a worthwhile life are desire for personal recognition, security and compulsive effort in relationship to God.

Are We Counting on the Other Fellow to Take Care of Our Future...

when he may not be working at the job

This is a good way to arrange for an unsatisfactory future . . . physical or economic.

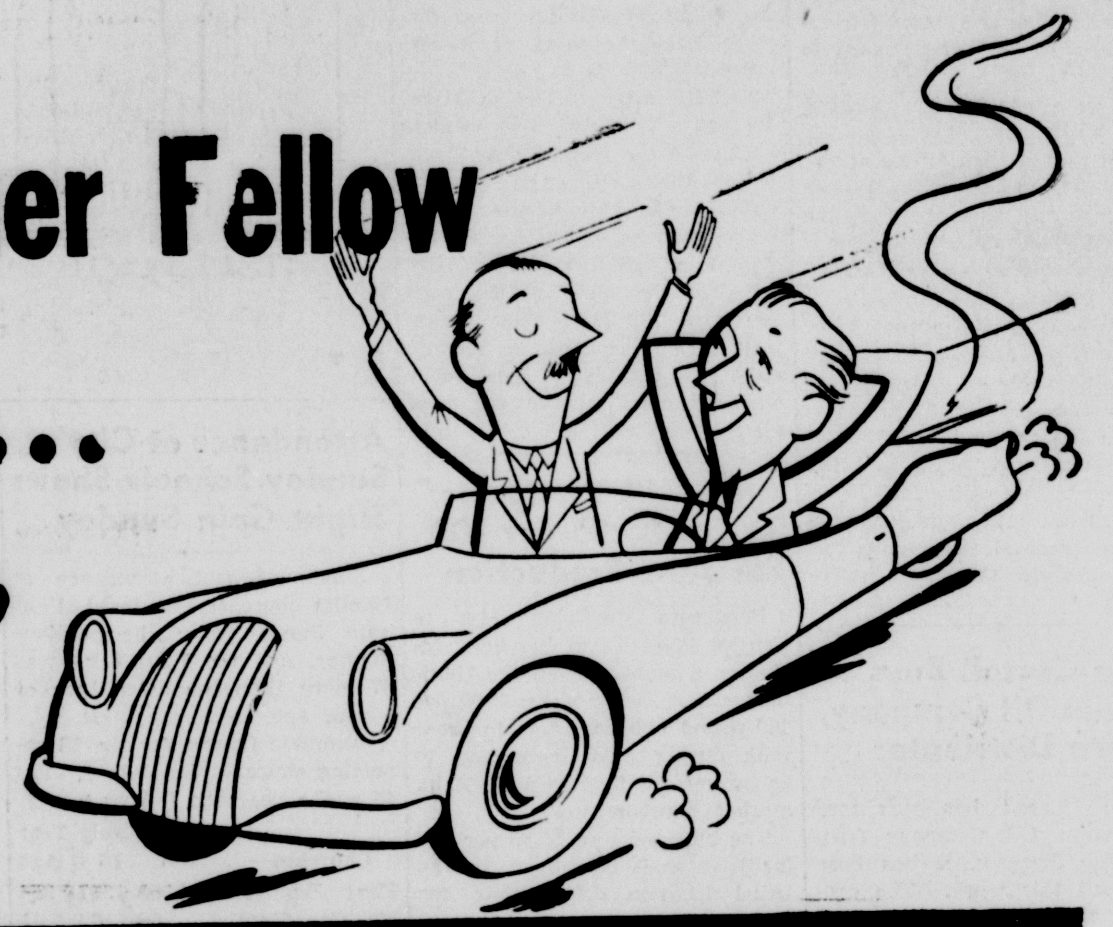

For instance . . . some of us depend on our good neighbors to spend THEIR money in the home community to keep it going so we can make a living in it . . . while we do OUR buying somewhere else.

But . . . sort of like when a couple of fellows in a car each thinks the other one is driving . . . the habit of "Letting George Do It" can darken the future if George happens to be letting YOU do it.

And, anyhow, even if we DO have lots of good neighbors trading at home to support US, and

It Pays to Buy where You Live

Of all the business establishments in the world — only those in Hamlin are sincerely interested in the future of Hamlin and in the future of YOU who live here . . .

our schools and churches and other community activities . . . THINK how much BETTER all of these would be supported if ALL OF US were buying everything we could at home.

Trading with home merchants is just good practical business sense anyhow . . . because we automatically get more for our money from them than out-of-town stores can give us . . . the EXTRA PREMIUM of community prosperity that only home business establishments can throw in for free with the goods we buy.

WALTER WILLIS, genial checker at Piggly Wiggly, and his wife are understanding folks, and The Herald appreciates their forbearance.

Through one of those unexplainable occurrences, last week Your Home Town Paper declared that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Willis were parents of a new girl. They denied the fact, though admitted they are expecting.

The announcement, made from notes from the Hamlin Memorial Hospital, was our error. We just didn't read our copy close enough. The girl was actually born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Willis Hunter.

JUDGE FRANK ROBERTS of The Andrews County News makes these observations in his "Drifting Sands" column of the paper:

Along with the weather, politics is warming up. Candidates over Texas are making their pitch. I think it was the Apostle Paul who said that we "was all things to all men, that he might win a few." Most office seekers want more than a few. And many use tactics of the apostle, but for a less noble purpose.

A lot of people will be taken in by the many glib promises and glittering generalities. As far as I am personally concerned, there is not a thing I want any politician to do for me, except leave me alone and let me earn a living honestly and decently.

I am not asking the government for any hand-outs or subsidies. If they want to raise the postal rates on my newspaper, they can go ahead as far as I am concerned.

If by chance they could find a way to prevent the armed services from selling each other surplus wooden spoons I'd be happy, and if they could find a way to take a little less from us and our help in the way of income taxes, I'd be thankful. If they can't, we will continue to shell out.

DEMONSTRATION of the cleverness of a person was noted last week in the case of some Stamford people.

A Hamlin minister and his wife were discussing two men who were in the news.

"Yes," said the minister, "I knew them both as boys. One was a clever handsome fellow; the other a steady, hard worker. The clever lad was left behind in the race, but the hard worker—well, he died and left $200,000 to his widow. It's a great moral."

"Yes," replied his wife, with a smile, "it is. I heard this morning that the clever one is going to marry the widow."

STOCK IN TRADE of the newspaper is, of course, news. An exchange coming to our desk the other day was discussing the word.

It has been pretty well settled that the word "news" is singular, but in years gone by an argument raged as to whether news was (or were) singular or plural. The famous Horace Greeley took a side in the dispute on, he was an out-and-out pluralist.

Invariably Greeley would greet his reporters coming in off their beats with the question: "Are there any news?"

This irked the reporters, but it was some time before any of them thought up a suitable report.

One day a perspiring news-hound dragged back into the office and, as expected, Greeley asked him, "Are there any news?"

The reporter snapped into an attention-like stance, glared directly at the editor, and replied: "No, sir, not a new!"

It is reported that Greeley, who authored the famous phrase, "Go West, young man," also suggested that this young reporter take a trip.

CONVERSATION is fine in its place, and in moderate doses. But after a second helping, most of us usually have all our appetite calls for Francis Gerard gives this version of a bore . . .

Never losing his breath;
His way to kill time

SMOKE BILLOWS OUT from the big fire that Friday afternoon destroyed the gin plant of the Producers Cooperative Gin, located west of the Santa Fe Railway depot, that did an estimated $40,000 damage. The flames apparently had been underway for several hours when the alarm was sounded. Wheat Farmers Will Express Views on Quotas in Friday Poll

$2 Support Price Slated If Quotas Approved in Vote

Wheat farmers of the Hamlin region, along with those of the remainder of the country, will go to the polls Friday to vote on wheat marketing quotas for the 1957 wheat crop.

Friday has been set as the date for the national referendum in which wheat growers will vote to determine whether the wheat farmers favor quotas by the two-thirds majority necessary to put them into effect, says W. H. Cook, chairman of the Jones County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The following polling places are provided in Jones County at which wheat farmers may vote in the referendum: Hamlin, at Farmers Cooperative Gin office; Stamford, at Kimbell elevator; and Anson, at Smith Service Station on highway. French Robertson Speaks on Civil Defense at Rotary

After giving a review of his impressions of the last atomic bomb explosion in the South Pacific which he observed, French Robertson of Abilene told members and guests at the Hamlin Rotary Club in luncheon session Wednesday to give support to the civil defense movement that is being promoted in the Abilene area.

Robertson, long time oil operator of Abilene, a member of the Texas Prison Board and prominent in defense affairs, was a member of the official bomb observation team that witnessed the last atomic bomb tests in the Pacific.

Robertson said his group was 36 miles from the bomb target when the huge bomb was exploded.

Robertson then told of some of the operations of the Texas prisons, which have increased in population by 80 per cent during the past eight years, he said. Texas prisons are going a long way to paying their own way, Robertson declared, by running farms, doing much of their own building and other processes.

Besides the speaker, other visitors at the Wednesday luncheon included Gene Wagner of Brownwood; W. M. Blackburn of Stamford; W. C. Russell, Joe Hueston Jr., Tyler Johnson and Austin Siburt of Hamlin.

County TB Leaders Go To State Conference

Attitude Sought In Vote on Return Of Meters in City

Something unusual in the way of voting is scheduled for Friday at Hamlin when people of the entire trade territory will have opportunity to express their feelings about parking meters in this Northwest Jones County metropolis.

Parking meters, long the center of discussion for the smaller city, had come up for concerted action about five weeks ago when a group of Hamlin business men petitioned the City Council to remove the meters from the streets of downtown for a trial period of six weeks. The petition alleged that the meters were hurting trade in town.

The meters were removed for a trial period, it being understood that a referendum would be staged during that time to ascertain feelings of the people of the region on whether they should be returned to service August 1 or allowed to remain inactive until January 1.

Balloting will be conducted at the Hamlin High School building, two blocks west of Central Avenue (Hamlin's main street) from 8:00 a. m. till 6:00 p. m. Every adult in the Hamlin trade territory is eligible to vote. No poll tax or other credentials are necessary.

Marcus Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Watts Fletcher of Hamlin, attended the school. He plays baritone in the Hamlin Piped Pipe Band.

No Cause of Big Gin Blaze Ascertained

No cause has been determined for the $40,000 fire that Friday afternoon practically destroyed gin plant of the Producers Cooperative Gin. Damage has been estimated by Bill Smith of Abilene, owner, at $40,000.

Fire Marshal T. W. (Mickey) McGuire declared first of the week, after several days of investigation, that several possible causes have been advanced, but that evidence so far shows no definite origin of the fire.

Evangelist from Ohio Leading in Revival at Church of Nazarene

Beginning Wednesday evening of this week the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene began a series of evangelistic services that will continue through Sunday, July 29, according to the pastor, Rev. Donald Wellman.

"An earnest and effective speaker, Rev. Crabtree stresses in his sermons the Wesleyan doctrine of heart purity," Pastor Wellman reports. "He has preached throughout the country in revivals, youth rallies, preachers' meetings and to college groups."

Services are being conducted at 10:00 a. m. and 7:45 each evening, and Rev. Wellman and his congregation invite the public to attend the services. Rev. and Mrs. Wellman are in charge of the music program.

Probably 90 Per Cent of Area Farmers Expected to Sign in Soil Bank by Friday

Probably 90 per cent of Jones County cotton and wheat farmers were expected to be signed up for participation in the soil bank by the signing deadline Friday night, according to officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee office at Anson, when they were contacted Wednesday by a Herald reporter.

M. S. Jones, chairman of the ACS office, estimated that some 263,000 acres of cotton and wheat land of the approximate 400,000 total had been signed by Tuesday night after several days of rushing business at his office.

Limit on signing up for this acreage reserve program of the soil bank is July 20, and signature of the land-owner must be secured by August 31.

The extreme dry conditions which prevail over much of the region make it profitable for the wheat and cotton farmers of the area to take advantage of the soil bank program.

Under the cotton program, maximum acreage is 10 acres or 50 per cent, whichever is larger.

For cotton land that is not planted the payment is 15 cents per pound for normal yield per acre, established for the farmer over a 10-year period.

Average yield for Jones County is 113 pounds per acre, Jones said. The individual farm yield will run from 50 pounds to 150 pounds per acre, and the Jones County farms are set up in five groups: 50, 75, 100, 125 and 150 pounds.

On land that has been planted and will not make, price is set at 80 per cent of the normal average yield at 15 cents per pound.

Four new citizens have been recorded at the Hamlin Memorial Hospital since last week's report in The Herald. Two boys and two girls, they are:

A boy for Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin of Spur was born July 16 at 3:50 p. m. Weighing eight pounds even at birth, he has been named James Michael.

A girl arrived July 13 at 4:35 p. m. for Mr. and Mrs. Gean Witt of Hamlin. After having her weight checked at seven pounds five ounces she accepted the name Cynthia Kay.

A boy for Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Gann of Anson discovered America July 14 at 4:15 p. m. He said the label James Kenneth would suit him after balancing the scales at seven pounds eight ounces.

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kiker of Roby July 14 at 8:40 p. m. The lightweight of the new arrivals at five pounds 10 ounces, the little miss approved her name of Sherri Denise.

WHY WE NEED A READY ARMED RESERVE

The Army's all-important mission is to uphold the interests of the United States, in a shooting war, in cold war or in peace. During times of peace its major mission is to deter aggression. To successfully deter aggression, its ability to fight and win must be so convincing that any potential enemy knows in advance that aggression on his part would not pay.

This ability is not measured in terms of weapons, equipment, and active forces alone. It is also based to a very great extent on the existence of a trained, fully equipped and manned ready reserve. One cannot over-emphasize the need for a trained reserve. We must at all times recognize that the tools of war, however vital a role they may play in any conflict, are useless without men who are trained to use them.

The very nature of global war decrees that the Army become increasingly flexible and mobile. It also decrees that a high state of preparedness exist at all times in both our active and reserve forces. Our Army, like the age it is a part of, is constantly changing. It is forever developing new tools and new techniques, and its men must know how to use and apply them.

No longer can we afford to spend long months after a conflict begins in preparing our reserves for their vital role. This training must be timely and continuous. Those of us who have shared life on the battlefield know all too well that it is neither fair to the individual nor his country for a man to enter combat without adequate training.

Today—through the Reserves Forces Act of 1955—we have a means of assuring our country of a strong, reliable and ready reserve. This act offers the youth of this country a means of discharging their military obligations without disrupting their careers or education—an unprecedented opportunity that every young man should seize.

To the employer who cooperates in the training program it offers among other things a better satisfied labor force, more responsible employees, and fewer men required to be away from the job for 30 to 45 days of annual training. To the United States it offers the assurance of a fully manned, well equipped and adequately trained ready reserve.

The size of our active Army and the future of this nation rest upon the success of our reserve program. To insure posterity the same blessings of democracy which we cherish it is necessary that the youth of America be aware of their responsibility to their government and meet it faithfully.

He Was Freedom Builder

If ever the world is wrecked by atomic desolation and archaeologists research the ruins of the American republic, 30 or 40 centuries later, one name will be found standing forth greater than all of the idealists, builders and statesmen of history.

George Washington was not an accident; he was descended from ancestors bred in church morality and with respect for common law. His name was of power to rally a nation, a beacon to cheer and guide its founders, a loadstone to attract a whole people's confidence and a whole world's respect.

Washington's sublime virtues ceased to be abstractions when embodied in practical applications. Success crowned his efforts, as if Providence had endowed him to be not only father of his country but commander-in-chief of the "new order of the ages."

If the world had followed the teachings of his philosophy and the admonitions of his "Farewell Address" and the chaos and confusion now raging over the earth would be unknown.

On the Side of Freedom

The local newspaper is a personal diary of a community's life. This is especially true of the country papers, of which there are many thousands in the United States. These papers are free to express their point of view on any issue or question of public or private interest, subject only to the reservations imposed by the libel law.

Their right to criticize their government was established over 200 years ago in what was then a British colonial town now known as New York City. This country's smaller newspapers are a tremendous asset on the side of freedom, possessed by no other nation. The strong local appeal of the small town newspaper assures unusual readership interest.

Amid all the modern developments in the field, the newspaper retains its position as one of the most effective advertising mediums. All of us have a tremendous stake in the continued health and independence of our thousands of newspapers. It is reassuring to find that they rest on such a solid foundation, both culturally in the minds and hearts of the readers, and economically in the support of advertisers.

A man may be better than his reputation, but never better than his principles.

Bad News for Taxpayers

In 1955 the state Legislatures set a new record—and one which is bad news for the taxpayer. According to the Tax Foundation, possibly as many as 3,000 new tax laws were passed. A large proportion involved increases in taxes—on personal incomes, on business, on gasoline and motor vehicles, and so on.

Hope is held out for some reduction in federal taxes in 1956. That will be of small cheer if it is offset, or largely so, by increased local taxation. The point is that we must keep a weather eye on the state house and the city hall—as well as the national capital.

Editorial of the Week

GODLESS PRAYERS

From San Rafael, California, comes word that the superintendent of schools announced that hereafter the grace prayers in schools must omit the name of God. It seems that a Mr. Newby there objected to his five-year-old son being dismissed from kindergarten when he refused to say grace with the other children. The grace prayer the children were saying was a versified thank offering to God. Mr. Newby contended that if he wanted his child taught religion he would put him in a church school. As a result of the controversy the name of God is to be left out of the prayers.

What kind of a prayer is it that would leave out God? Prayer is the sincere desire of the heart expressed or unexpressed toward someone. If there be no God, then where is there someone in a position to hear and answer prayer? If the desire is not God-ward, how could it be prayer in any sense of the word? Moderns laugh when they read of the Balaamites lancing their veins and crying out to Baal on Mount Carmel, but at least they were trying to call on someone they believed superior to themselves. Even a prayer to an idol would make more sense than one offered to the nothingness of space.

California can usually be counted on to come up with some new idea, but it is usually an evil one. However, this new system of praying without addressing God is really something new; and to think that it is being done in a schoolroom where children are supposed to be taught the truth. How long will it be before people will realize that Jesus Christ is the truth and that no true learning omits Him?—The Baptist Standard.

Oil Operators Advised Joint Operations Must Be Filed in Tax Return

Oil operators who are parties to joint operating agreements are required to file a federal partnership tax return on Form 1065 on or before August 21, 1956, according to A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer of the Abilene office of Internal Revenue Service.

The new partnership regulations, promulgated in final form on May 23, 1956, under revenue act of 1954, require a vast number of oil operators to file these returns. Many oil operators may elect in this return to exclude the joint operating agreement from the partnership regulations. However, failure to file the return and make the election will result in the venture being treated for income tax purposes as a partnership for all future years, Fogle explains in a release to The Herald.

Bobbie Bruner, Bride-Elect, Honored at Gift Tea Tuesday

A gift tea honoring Bobbie Bruner, bride-elect of Charles Rowland, was given in the home of Mrs. Ed Johnson last Tuesday evening, from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock. The honoree was presented a corsage of white roses by the hostesses.

Mrs. Ed Johnson greeted the guests at the door and presented them to Bobbie, the honoree; Mrs. Eli Bruner, mother of the bride-to-be; Mrs. J. A. Rowland, mother of the groom-to-be; and Nita Jay Rowland.

Mrs. Gladys Nelson directed guests into the dining room, where the bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used in decorations. The table was laid with a lace cloth over blue. The centerpiece was of white gladiolas and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Bill Thompson, Mrs. L. B. Bruner, Mrs. Lewis Johnson and Mrs. Johnnie Wood assisted in the dining room, where punch and cake iced in blue and white were served in keeping with the bride's chosen colors.

County Agent Gives Pointers on Tasty Use of Left-Over Foods

Don't feed your garbage pails—prepare the right amounts for family meals so there will not be a lot of food left over, suggests Mary Newberry, home demonstration agent for Jones County.

Save the vitamins and minerals in vegetables by using proper cooking methods, she continues. Cook in the skin or pare thinly. Cook quickly in a covered pan containing just enough boiling salted water to cover. Use left-over cooking water for soups, gravies and sauces. Use canned vegetable and fruit juices, too.

Prevent unnecessary food spoilage. Store fresh foods promptly. Most vegetables and fruits keep best in the refrigerator.

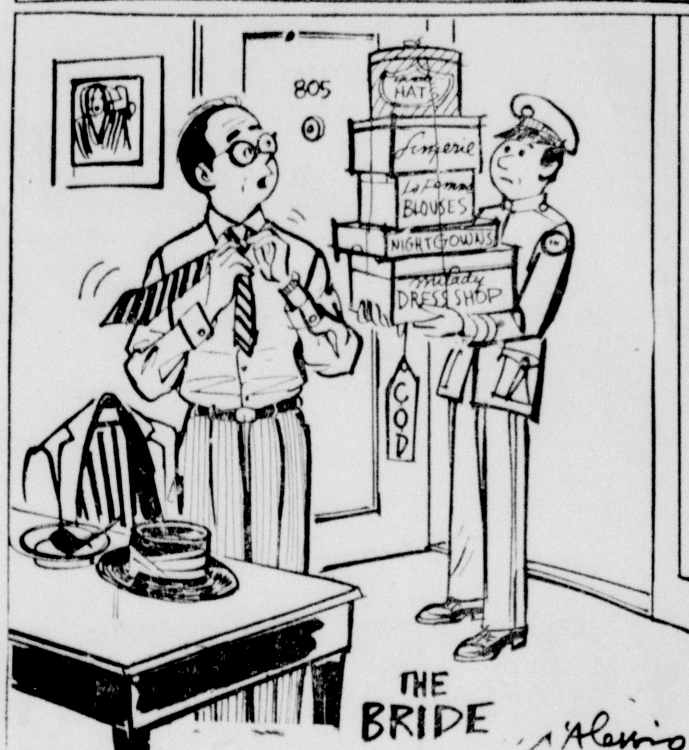

Save left-over fats. Use them to season vegetables, for frying, for making cornbread, griddle cakes or for gravies and soups.

Use left-over bread for crumbs for scalloped dishes, breading meats and vegetables and for extending meat for patties and loaves.

Sometimes it is good economy to buy a larger cut of meat and use it in different ways for more than one meal. Use left-over meats for hash, meat cakes, meat pies, chop suey, casserole dishes with rice, macaroni, stuffing for green peppers, salads, etc.

Retarded Children and Parents Being Given New Attitudes by Cooperation

Within the last few years there has been a great upsurge of interest in retarded children, declares Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D., AP Newsfeatures writer. Her release continues:

Society finally has come to realize that these children and also their parents can be helped to a degree of happiness never before thought possible. It is no longer necessary to hide away a retarded child. Parents of such children have banded together and formed associations.

By frank and open discussions they help each other, and by combined action they are succeeding in improving the community facilities for better care and education of children who cannot profit by the usual school facilities.

However, the knowledge that one of their own children is not normal comes as a great shock to any parents.

Sometimes retardation is of a type that can be diagnosed soon after birth, and the parents are told immediately that their child will not develop in the usual way. Sometimes retardation is not suspected until much later, when the child fails to develop the skills we expect as growth progresses.

But whenever the knowledge comes to the parents it comes as a terrific blow that no parent adjusts to without a good deal of inner torment. Most parents go through more or less the same stages of anguish before their finally come to realization that life has dealt them this blow and that it presents a challenge that can be met.

After the initial shock is past many parents refuse to accept the fact, insisting, "This couldn't happen to us." Mr. and Mrs. Johnson quite naturally wanted another doctor's opinion, but meat or poultry.

after the second and the third and the fourth doctor all had given more or less the same verdict, they still hoped all the doctors were wrong.

As time went on, Mrs. Johnson finally began to accept the fact that Sally was slower than other children. She wouldn't take Sally anywhere for fear of what people would think. She even hesitated to get a baby sitter, so she sat at home and stewed in her troubles. Her irritability made things rough on her relationship to her husband.

At the urging of their doctor the Johnsons went one evening to a meeting of the local chapter of the National Association of Retarded Children. There they met other parents who had faced up to a problem like theirs.

"Why, some of those people actually seemed happy," said Mrs. Johnson in utter amazement.

That evening was a turning point for the Johnsons. They began reading the literature supplied by the association; they talked with other parents and began making some constructive plans for Sally.

The National Association for Retarded Children has its main office at 129 East 52nd Street, New York. A list of local chapters may be obtained from the national headquarters.

Alert Furniture Industry Helping to Add New Decorator Appeal to Homes

Home, they say, is what you make it, and the homemaker today is getting heaps of help from a hep furniture industry.

Its aim is to bring decorator type furniture with a future into your home and emphasize its versatility for double purpose use.

The new general trend in style seems to be furniture that has a feeling of lightness. This seems evident in new pieces shown at the big semi-annual international home furnishings market beginning June 18 at Chicago.

Some 40,000 furniture buyers and manufacturers from 48 states and many foreign countries attended the show.

Wallace O. Ollman, general manager of the Merchandise Mart, where part of the show is held, says the demand for furniture is a record high.

"Furniture store sales during the first quarter ran nine per cent ahead of last year," he said.

Design influences from around the world are revealed in the new furniture introduced. There are interpretations of Italian Provincial, simplified French Provincial, Scandinavian, Early American and new 18th Century treatments.

The modern styles have warmth and decorative interest with rounded lines, wood parquetry and combinations of textures and materials in single pieces.

Leather and printed fabrics are readily combined. Rare woods are used freely. The use of distressed finished mahogany for modern furniture is an example of a departure from the usual. Another wood finish is called Afritan, a rich, spicy brown.

An American cherry group designed by Sanford Wallack is called Concept. It lends a slight Provincial feeling to a casual contemporary setting. Cherry chests are as much at home in a dining room as in a bedroom.

This trend to correlate pieces enables a homemaker to rearrange furniture to suit homemaking demands, whether the need is for the present or future.

The heaviness of Provincial is trimmed by utilizing tapered legs on tables, chairs, sofas and chests.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford, Manager, Texas Press Association. Austin.—Income and expense reports of candidates show Daniel, Alkin and Wilson leading in their receipts and expenditures in their respective fields.

U. S. Senator Price Daniel was far out in front in financial support. He listed contributions totaling $112,849.

Other gubernatorial contenders' kitties stacked up thusly: Yeaborer $31,772; Ralph Yarborough, $23,863; W. Lee O'Daniel, $1,770.

Senator A. M. Alkin Jr. led in the lieutenant governor's race with $19,657 in contributions, as compared with $8,125 for Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey, and $6,003 for John Lee Smith.

Will Wilson was far ahead of the pack in the attorney general's race, reporting financial support totaling $21,021.

On the expenditure side of the ledger the leaders held the same positions. In the governor's race Daniel spent $82,474; Senterfitt, $32,081; Yarborough, $25,826; and O'Daniel, $20,589.

Among the candidates for lieutenant governor, Alkin reported expenses of $12,244.82; Ramsey, $7,003; and Smith, $8,583.05.

Wilson again outdistanced his competitors in the campaign for attorney general with a total expenditure of $10,962.

State Health Department officials believe Salk shots enabled Texans to avert a bad polio year. Pre-season incidence of polio, they point out, was unusually high this year—224 cases as compared to 167 in 1955.

But as the season progressed immunization was stepped up. Since April 28 there have been only 269 cases compared to 375 in the same period last year.

"This would have been a major polio year," said one official. "Salk vaccine apparently is the answer as to why it isn't."

Texas farm income thus far in 1956 has slid 13 per cent from last year.

Inadequate moisture was the major cause. Prices were off only three per cent. Therefore, most of the drop came from smaller marketings.

State officials took note of the farmers' worsening plight. Governor Allan Shivers announced the U. S. Department of Agriculture has approved extension of the emergency drought feed program for 64 counties.

A request for direct payments to enable drought-hit farmers to purchase hay on the open market was turned over to the state defense and disaster relief office.

It came from the Texas Farm Bureau president, who said the present federal program is inadequate.

John White, state agriculture commissioner, said the state's rural economy, in many areas, is in the final stages of collapse.

Shut towns are in the making in the heart of some of our richest agricultural lands, he said.

Last week's widely scattered rain brought only temporary relief.

A fine fuel—is what you'll say about Butene Gas—and economical too!

Booklet on Claims for Federal Gas Tax Now Available to Farmers

A. E. Fogle Jr., administrative officer in charge for the Internal Revenue Service, this week announced availability of a 15-page IRS booklet designed to help farmers file claims for refund of federal tax paid on gasoline for farming purposes.

Titled "Publication 308," the free instruction book explains in simple language how to claim a refund of the tax on gasoline used during the six-month period January 1 through June 30, 1956. It also tells how the new law relieves farmers from federal excise taxes on diesel and special motor fuels.

Refund claims are to be filed between July 1 and October 1. Publication 308 and gas tax refund forms may be obtained from the Dallas District IRS office, at Abilene or from county agricultural agents, according to Fogle.

REAPLY AN ANTIQUE. "My husband has the strangest hobby," said Mrs. Smith to a friend, "and I never knew anything about it until yesterday."

I found in his desk a queer looking ticket inscribed "Mudhorse, 10 to 1." I asked him what it was and he told me it was a relic of a lost race. Isn't that interesting?"

$250 award, given annually to the journalist contributing the most to the administration of justice. Presentation was made by Homa Hill, Fort Worth attorney and one-time newspaper boy at Sour Lake.

Meanwhile, the water board had another problem. After a 12-day recess, hearings were to resume Tuesday in the Canyon Dam controversy. San Antonio's request for water from the proposed dam is vigorously opposed by nearby rural communities.

If the State Board of Education adopts its study committee's proposals, future diplomas will come a little harder for Texas high school students.

Suggestions included: (1) two years instead of one of laboratory science, (2) a half unit more of government or history, (3) making physical education and health non-credit courses, and (4) limiting athletic practice during school hours.

Texas citizens still have the right to file criminal complaints against anyone violating bus segregation laws.

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd has reiterated his official opinion that a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision did not invalidate Texas law in this area.

"Any citizen may file a complaint against any bus driver or other person failing to comply with these laws," said Shepperd.

His statement came in response to a query from Representative Joe Pool of Dallas. There, as in several other Texas cities, enforcement efforts have been virtually abandoned since the high court ruling.

Short Shorts.—A warning to future holiday motorists came from the Department of Public Safety after Texas led the nation in July 4 fatalities.

Colonel Homer Garrison said heavy traffic and fast driving caused Texas highway deaths to soar to 15, more than double the predicted six.

Marketing of the 1956 Texas cotton crop could be delayed by a strike-caused shortage of steel bands used in baling. Texas stocks are critically low, according to the State Agriculture Department.

Texas' August draft call is for 639 men, compared to 641 in July, says State Selective Service headquarters. Also in August draft boards will be called on for about 1,134 men to take physical and mental examinations for future draft quotas.

Mack R. Collins of Hawley Reappointed To FHA Committee by State Official

Mack R. Collins of Route 1, Hawley, was reappointed to the Farmers Home Administration committee for Jones County this week, Leonard C. Williams, local supervisor for the agency, announced. The appointment was made by Walter T. McKay, state director at Dallas.

Collins operates a livestock farm near Hawley. He was appointed last year to fill the unexpired term vacated by Claude Young of Route 1, Stamford. Since Collins had served less than one year, he was reappointed for a full term.

Other two members of the committee are C. A. Baucum Jr. of Route 2, Anson and Glenn E. Odell of Lueders farmers and stockmen of their respective communities.

The committee determines the eligibility of local farmers who apply for Farmers Home Administration loans. They also certify as to the value of farms being purchased or improved through FHA loans, and make recommendations on loan approvals and loan servicing actions. Advice of the committeemen is sought on good farm management and on the refinancing of FHA loans when borrowers build up enough equity in their property to get credit from local banks or other lenders.

The county supervisor relies on the advice of the committee in connection with all types of loans. These include farm operating loans; loans to buy, improve or enlarge efficient family type farms in this area, and loans to establish and carry on approved soil and water conservation practices, including improving permanent pastures, terracing, soil erosion measures, farmstead water systems, irrigation, drainage and many other conservation practices.

The Tech home economics division sponsored the conference in cooperation with the Texas Education Agency and U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Registered for the workshop from Hamlin were Mrs. Cecil Brown, Mrs. Mattie Conner, Mrs. Edd Rodgers, Mrs. Eva Eades, Mrs. Bernice Smith and Mrs. Viola Petty.

West Texas Fair at Abilene to Be Revived At New Show Center

The West Texas Fair will be revived in Abilene September 10 to 14 after a five-year lapse while waiting for a new exposition center.

It will be held at the recently completed Taylor County Exposition Center and will have a whopping $18,454.25 premium list.

The fair was de-activated after the 1950 show until more adequate facilities could be built to handle the continually increasing fair crowds.

In announcing the premium list, Fair President John A. Wright of Abilene said that the board of directors is anxious to once again make the annual event the outstanding success it was for 50 years. "With the new and modern facilities, and the extra large premium list, we hope to make this revision an outstanding success for West Texas," Wright said.

The Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys of Abilene, the most famous of all college bands, have played all over the nation and have toured Europe.

Abolish the Evil Tax Law Now!

Recently I proposed abolition of the progressive income tax. I suggested its replacement with a flat rate tax on income with a top limit of 22 1/2%, plus a Federal sales tax. I pointed out that not only would this form of tax encourage greater investment, greater risk, harder work and larger incomes for all—it would also not necessarily reduce the tax collections by the government. The Federal government will even collect more in taxes with lower rates.

Figures from the past show why this would probably occur. In the National Review of March 28 there is an article advocating a 25 per cent limit on income taxes. It contains some highly significant figures.

They show that in 1925 the maximum income tax rate was 40 per cent and the maximum personal exemption $2,500. Total income tax collections in 1925 were $2,584,140,000. The next year the top tax rate was dropped to 24 per cent and the personal exemption was increased to $3,000. But tax collections increased from $2,584,140,000 to $2,836,000,000. Thus with lower rates for higher income groups and greater exemptions for lower groups the revenue department collected more money.

In 1927 the top tax rate remained at 24 per cent but personal exemptions were increased to $3,500 taking more lower income people off the tax rolls. Again the revenue collections increased. They went to $2,865,683,000. Next in 1928 the top tax rate was again dropped to 20 per cent. The exemption remained the same. This further reduction in rates caused only a slight dip in collections amounting to $75,147,000. The next year at those lowered rates, however, the revenue bureau again gained more revenue. It collected $2,939,054,000. And still at those same lower rates in 1930, the tax take rose to the highest level of all, although at half the rates in 1925. It reached $3,040,146,000.

These figures prove conclusively that a drop in tax rates does not automatically mean a drop in the revenue. More often than not it means an increase in tax collections. Canada tried this in recent years and it paid off. It pays off because at lower rates people try to earn more so they can keep more. They risk more because if the risk pays off they can profit more. They work harder, spend more, build more, and employ more because they don't have to share such a large proportion of the fruits of their labor and investment with the government. But by earning more and profiting more and employing more they pay more taxes even at lower tax rates.

In my opinion right now would be a good time to try that kind of tax policy again. Save the working man from becoming an economic slave. $1,500 exemption for each person. A family of four making $6,000 will not pay taxes. The working man and the independent business man deserves a fair deal. God willing, we shall abolish this terrible injustice where the middle and low income tax group is giving its money to the government without any strings attached, and paying most of the bills. Then our politicians turn around and give it to our foreign friends to keep them liking us and from joining the Russians.

HOW LONG SHOULD "ANY ONE MAN HOLD THE OFFICE OF DISTRICT JUDGE?"

When My Opponent, who has now held the office for Sixteen Years, first sought the office, his beliefs were, as shown by the reprints of his political advertising in the Abilene Reporter-News, "SIXTEEN YEARS is long enough for ANY ONE MAN to hold the office of District Judge" and "a change would be RIGHT DEMOCRATIC and PROPER." Brewer Leads Batters and Rowland Leads Pitcher in Pony League Records

Shorty Brewer, playing with the Oilers, topped the batting records of the youngsters playing in the four-team loop that closed its regular season several days ago. With a percentage of .523, than 15 acres has been established and all other persons who have such an interest in a wheat crop seeded for 1957 harvest in excess of 15 acres will be eligible to vote in the referendum. Both the farmers and his wife are eligible to vote.

If two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum approve marketing quotas, marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1957 crop and the wheat price support rate will be at a national average of $2 per bushel to those who comply with farm wheat allotments, and the unit rate for determining payments under the 1957 wheat acreage reserve of the soil bank will be 60 per cent of $2 or $1.20 per bushel national average with the usual differentials for local areas.

If more than one-third of the growers voting in the referendum on July 20 disapprove marketing quotas, the marketing quotas will not be in effect and the 1957 support rate will be 50 per cent of parity, or approximately $1.20 per bushel national average to those who comply with their wheat allotments, and the unit rate for determining payments under the 1957 wheat acreage reserve of the soil bank will be 60 per cent of the support rate, or approximately 75 cents per bushel national average with the usual differentials for local areas.

Any person who desires additional information may call at the ASC office and any point not clear concerning the quotas will be explained, Cook stated.

"We will not attempt," says Cook, "to influence voting either for or against wheat quotas, but we do urge every eligible wheat farmer to vote in the referendum in order that the outcome may reflect the desire of the majority of wheat farmers."

For land that has been planted and totally destroyed, a flat rate figure of $6 per acre is set.

Under the wheat program, land may qualify that was not seeded or was not harvested because of adverse weather conditions.

This wheat land must be left idle. Land must not have been grazed since June 22 and if small grain is planted next fall for 1957 harvest, it must not be grazed before January 1, 1957.

Wheat land is limited to 50 per cent or 50 acres, whichever is the larger, with $6 per acre for land that was not harvested and $4 per acre for that not seeded.

Despite No Car Deaths In District in June, Motorists Cautioned

In summing up the rural motor vehicle accidents for June, 1956, and the first six months of 1956, Captain G. L. Morahan of the Abilene Highway Patrol District, said "Motorists must help hold the line. We did not have a traffic death in the 13-county patrol district during June, although one died on July 1 that was injured in June."

Captain Morahan said that with the increase in volume of traffic, increase in accidents, increase in injuries during the first six months of 1956, and even though there is one death less than during the first six months of 1955, there is still need for grave concern, as potentially any accident may be fatal.

The "big toll" months are still ahead, he cautioned, therefore motorists must assist. "Cooperate with you fellow driver, drive defensively, avoid driving when fatigued, and let's kill less people in traffic than last year!"

There were no fatalities until the thirteenth day.

HOLD TIGHT!

Ever find yourself caught out in the middle of a storm with your umbrella blowing itself inside out?

There you are, clinging like mad to that frail bit of cloth and metal... and you realize that if the wind gets one whit stronger your "protection" is going to blow right out of your hands.

Fortunately, it doesn't hurt to get wet, so losing your umbrella wouldn't be much of a tragedy. But when you're caught in one of the other types of storms life deals out... a storm that buffets at your inner sense of security... or your idea of right or wrong... a storm that tries to undermine your marriage, or your career... or a storm of sickness or strife... then it's a very different matter.

How fortunate that in those more difficult moments, you don't have to rely upon something as flimsy as an umbrella. How fortunate that you can turn to the Church and find in it solace, protection, courage, and the faith to keep going. You will find that the Church is a shelter that will always protect you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

OWEN THOMAS

TO THE CITIZENS OF JONES COUNTY AND OF THE 104TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

With deep appreciation for the confidence you have placed in me in the years past, I respectfully solicit your support for reelection as District Judge on the basis of my service in this judicial office.

I shall continue to conduct the courts of the District in a manner in keeping with the dignity and responsibility of the office and ever remain worthy of your confidence.

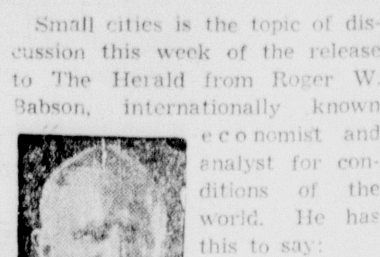

I shall continue to conduct the courts with order and decorum, with courtesy and respect, fairly and impartially, according to law and in keeping with my conscience.

This in my conception of the duty of a Judge.

Small Cities, Says Roger Babson, Come Into Own as Industries Leaving Centers

Babson

Small cities is the topic of discussion this week of the release to The Herald from Roger W. Babson, internationally known economist and author of conditions of the world. He has this to say:

I am writing this from room 15-T on the fifteenth floor of the Waldorf Astoria, overlooking New York City. I have supplemented my fears by talks with leading authorities. I am told that what I see from this window will some day be destroyed; but it is very hard for me to accept.

I like small cities. This is their usefulness. In fact, large cities usually have some great national advantage, such as nearness to water power, like Buffalo or Minneapolis; or location at the junction of two rivers, like St. Louis; or at the outlet of a river, like New Orleans; or having a wonderful harbor, like New York. Nothing can prevent such fortunately located cities from always being great, even if vulnerable. But today I must tell you why I like small cities.

The H-bomb and guided missiles will postpone World War III; but scriptures teach that there will be at least one more war some day; and it will be the worst one of all. Just now, much is appearing in newspapers and magazines regarding the prospects for peace. Civil defense has never taken hold; and it is very difficult to interest people in it at present. It seems to me that England,

France and Russia are lulling us to sleep with their "big four conference."

Now speculators are crazy about uranium as an agent which will be switched to peace uses and thus protect the United States from the H-bomb. Without doubt uranium has many useful possibilities; but these discussions will soon be forgotten as the American people have very short memories. However, the world supply of uranium is very large and is well scattered throughout the leading nations and their possessions.

Certainly most nations will be making H-bombs which can be used for "blackmailing" purposes and for attempting to get what they want without World War II. All the above will result in further inflation and continued high taxes. Some day one of these "blackmailing" threats may be "called" and some large cities will be bombed. Then several million innocent citizens in these cities could be killed.

All the above could result in a continued movement of families and industries out of the large cities into the smaller communities. These small cities—when located not too near a big city—should have a great future. Many young people will prefer to live in one of these smaller communities, both from a safety standpoint and also to profit by their growth.

Decentralization of industries is also underway. Few manufacturing plants in the big cities are enlarging within those cities; they are building supplemental plants in smaller places. This factor of decentralization will greatly benefit small communities. The big cities are getting more vulnerable to war dangers, labor troubles and high costs. Corporations are finding it easier to raise money for capital expenditures in the small cities, rather than the large cities. In the end, bankers and investors determine locations.

I forecast that the prices of the stocks of companies with all their assets in big, vulnerable cities may decline; while those with their assets in big, vulnerable cities may not. My belief is that downtown real estate values in some of the large cities may be at their peak, but that in the smaller cities such real estate is still a purchase. In addition to the factors above, let me remind readers of the curse of the automobile and the downtown parking problem in large cities. Good roads, however, are helping the small cities, which should profit by President Eisenhower's proposal for expending $101,000,000,000 for good roads.

Workers in the smaller cities have a high character, are intelligent, and may give more thought to the ultimate consumer. Owing to the lower cost of living in the smaller cities, there are fewer labor troubles where management is reasonable. Labor has less turn-over in these smaller cities. To avoid the handicaps mentioned above, the large cities should get solidly behind the new federal urban development program.

WHO CAN DO IT?

A violinist stopped in a London music shop and asked for an E string. Placing a large bunch of strings before the customer, the storekeeper remarked:

"Here they are, sir. Select what you want—I can't tell the 'E's from the 'S's."

FOOLING FATE.

Pat and Mike were obliged to halt their heavily loaded cart to make way for a funeral. Gazing at the procession, Pat suddenly remarked:

"Mike, I'd give five hundred dollars to know the place where I'm going to die."

"Well, Pat, what good would it do if yez knew?"

"Lots," said Pat. "Shure, I'd never go near the place."

Ever see an electric day bed?

You will soon. The first one is already on the market.

One minute it's a sofa. Then press a button and it unfolds into a bed—automatically. Press the button again and it folds back into a sofa.

This is just one of many new ways that electricity will be working for you in the years to come. Electricity will heat your home in winter, cool it in summer... cook your food in seconds instead of hours... open your garage doors at the approach of your car.

You'll need plenty of power for this new electric age—and it will be waiting when you want it. Independent electric companies like this one build ahead of your needs so you will have plenty of electricity always!

Safety Officials Warns Texas Motorists To Give Plenty of Time for Vacations

"Don't turn your vacation dream into a nightmare!"

E. C. McFadden of Dallas, president of the Texas Safety Association, gave this warning to motorists in outlining the goals of the vacation safe driving program being sponsored this month in Texas by the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"A dream of a vacation can become a nightmare in just a matter of seconds for a driver who sets out to cover too much territory in too little time," he said.

McFadden pointed out that the motorist who is trying to drive an unwise schedule is too prone to take chances, to set aside caution and press down on the accelerator without regard for prevailing traffic, weather, roadway or even his own fatigued physical condition.

He advised vacationers to start early in the day and to stop in time in the evening for a good night's rest before beginning the next lap of their journey.

"It's also wise," he said, "to provide time for frequent rest stops along the route—periodic coffee breaks or a walk in the open air to relax taut nerves and tired muscles."

Motorists were urged to take a tip from safety minded commercial trucking companies, which insist that their drivers stop occasionally for coffee, and, if sleep-

for a brisk walk around the truck before continuing.

McFadden also emphasized the following rules:

1. Before starting out, be sure your car is in perfect mechanical condition.
2. Space driving with adequate rest periods—always be alert at the wheel.
3. Know what to expect. Learn the driving regulations of the states you'll be driving through before you start your trip.
4. Load your car carefully. Be sure your baggage and equipment are loaded so that it cannot shift dangerously or obstruct vision in any way.

"And," said McFadden, "we hope that all our drivers will keep their real goal in mind—to arrive back home again alive."

Cities Service Posts Lowered Price in Area For Crude Oil Bought

Hamlin area oil production was affected when a downward adjustment of seven cents a barrel in its posted price for crude oil in West Central Texas counties was announced last week-end by Cities Service Oil Company at Dallas.

The price cut became effective Sunday. Counties with production affected are Callahan, Coleman, Fisher, Jones, Nolan, Runnels, Shackelford and Taylor. Cities Service is estimated to buy about 35,000 barrels daily in the counties.

The company said the new price scale will be $2.83 a barrel for 40-gravity crude and above against the previous price of $2.90.

The announcement said the reduction was being made to bring the price in line with West Texas intermediate crude produced in the same general area which has "approximately the same refining value."

Clyde Carroll Buys Hamlin Oil Company, Cosden Distributor

Clyde Carroll has purchased the Hamlin Oil Company from Mrs. Dub Burgess. It has been announced this week. The concern is the wholesale and retail dealer for Cosden oil products and related lines.

Carroll, who had operated the Gulf Service Station at the corner of Lake Drive and Central Avenue for many years until recently, is an experienced petroleum products man.

In addition to Cosden oil products, Carroll will handle Veedol, X-Cel batteries and Vee-flo tires and other auto accessories and supplies.

Hamlin Oil Company is located at the intersection of Highway 83 and 57 at the McCauley on South Central Avenue.

Area Milk Producers To Get $5.85 per 100 For June Production

Producers supplying milk to Central West Texas handlers, including a number from the Hamlin territory, will receive $5.85 per 100 pound (4.0 per cent) for base milk during June, according to announcement by Byord W. Bain, market administrator.

The base price of $5.85 per 100 for base milk is subject to the usual location differentials for various towns other than Abilene.

Central West Texas producers delivered 11,594,828 pounds of base milk and 1,938,319 pounds of excess milk, or a total of 13,533,247 pounds during June.

Total delivered base milk exceeded the volume of producer milk classified as Class I, resulting in 1,626,225 pounds of base milk being classified as Class II.

Congressman Burleson Visits City Friday In Reelection Drive

Congressman Omar Burleson was a visitor in Hamlin Friday of last week campaigning for reelection.

The congressman is making a tour of his district, which includes the counties of Callahan, Comanche, Eastland, Erath, Fisher, Hamilton, Jones, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Shackelford, Stephens and Taylor.

Burleson says he hopes to be able to spend a little time in every town and community between now and the primary election on July 28.

He returned from Washington on Saturday, July 7, where his duties as chairman of the house administration committee and important legislation action kept him until then.

EASY TIMING.

A motorist was driving through a remote section of the country and, after stopping in a small village for something to eat, noticed that his wrist watch had stopped. As he paused on the porch of the small cafe he turned to a native lounging nearby and said:

"I wonder if you could tell me what time it is?"

"It's twelve o'clock," drawled the other.

"Only twelve o'clock?" questioned the traveler. "I thought it was much more than that."

"It's never more than that around this part of the country," replied the native. "It goes up to twelve o'clock and then starts all over again."

That's was really an amateur sport until 1926

VETERAN QUESTIONS

The questions and answers below about veteran problems are carried as a service to present and former service connected personnel by The Herald. Material for this column is supplied by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

Question—I am going to summer school under the World War II GI bill and my course ends August 31. Will I be allowed to finish, even though the July 25 wind-up of the program applies to me?

Answer—The law prohibits you from training after July 25, 1956, under the GI bill. It does not provide for exceptions to allow veterans to finish their courses. You may, of course, continue your course after July 25 at your own expense.

Q—If a serviceman dies in service, do his beneficiaries have a choice in type of payment of his indemnity?

A.—No. The indemnity is paid in only one way: One hundred and twenty monthly installments, with each installment at $9.29 per $1,000 of indemnity. It is only in past-service Korean GI insurance that a choice exists in payment of the proceeds.

Q.—As a service disabled veteran with an 80 per cent disability rating, I am drawing extra compensation because I have a 17-year-old son. He has just enlisted in the Marines. Will the extra payments continue, since he has not yet reached age 18?

A.—The extra payments may not be continued after he joins the Marines. Reason is that once he is in service, he no longer can be considered a legal member of your household for purpose of the extra compensation payments.

Q.—Is it necessary for a disabled Korea veteran to undergo vocational counseling before he begins vocational rehabilitation training under public law 894?

A.—Yes. The law requires vocational counseling for all disabled veteran trainees, in order to determine need for training, and in order to help the veteran choose a training program best suited to him.

PROVED RIGHT THERE.

Jones bought a business from an agent. After some months he failed, and meeting the agent some time later, he said:

"Do you remember selling me a business a few months ago?"

"Yes," replied the agent, "but what's the trouble? Isn't it as I represented it to be?"

"Oh, yes," said the other. "You said it was in a busy locality where there were plenty of passers-by."

"Well!" queried the agent, "what is wrong with that?"

"There were too many passers-by."

Dan Kralis Urges Government Back To People in Visit

Dan Kralis of Abilene, candidate for Congress from the 17th District, composed of Jones and 11 other counties, visited Hamlin last Thursday and made a brief speech, urging voters "to bring the government back to us, the people."

The U. S. County candidate told a Herald reporter that he regretted he was unable to make a longer campaign stop here to personally meet and greet every voter in this community and the surrounding area.

"But that's quite impossible," Kralis grinned, explaining, "If I were to spend 30 minutes with every voter in the 17th Congressional District it would take me four and a half years, day and night without eating or sleeping to meet all the men and women of these 12 counties."

The big, friendly six-foot 200-pound congressional candidate said he was mighty pleased with the public response to his messages which have been appearing in his advertisements in the columns of The Herald, and said that he is a staunch defender of the freedom of the press.

Kralis, who is a keen student of government and economics, said that he decided to run for Congress last March and that he was seeking the office on a platform which, he declared, "concurs with the wishes of most of the citizens of the 17th Congressional District."

ALREADY LOOKING AROUND.

An old woman was dying and she was very much concerned that her husband could not manage without her. As she lay in bed, she said:

"Dear, I want you to promise me that when I slip away, you'll take another wife. And I've been thinking that Helen Henry would be just the one for you."

"Id on't know," replied her husband, scratching his head. "She isn't exactly the one I've been thinking about myself."

HE'S EXCUSED.

A little boy was about to purchase a ticket for a movie in the early afternoon when the box office man asked:

"Why aren't you in school?"

"Oh, it's all right, sir," said the youngster earnestly. "I've got the measles."

Faith Methodist Pastor Speaks at Lions Club Session

Message and mission of the Christian church today is to help man develop the philosophy of the proper relationship to God, declared Rev. H. W. Adair, new pastor of the Faith Methodist Church in Hamlin, when he spoke at the Tuesday noon luncheon of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

The young minister, pointing to the value of man, asserting that although chemically man is worth only $1.96, his real value is ascertained by his relationship to others and the rest of the world. He said the motivating factors of a worthwhile life are desire for personal recognition, security and compulsive effort in relationship to God.

As a background for his talk, young Adair pointed out that he accepted the call to the ministry only after becoming an alcoholic in his fight against the call.

Weldon Johnson, Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 43, which the Lions Club sponsors presented a new troop charter to the club president, Edgar Duncan, who praised Johnson's work with the boys.

Are We Counting on the Other Fellow to Take Care of Our Future...

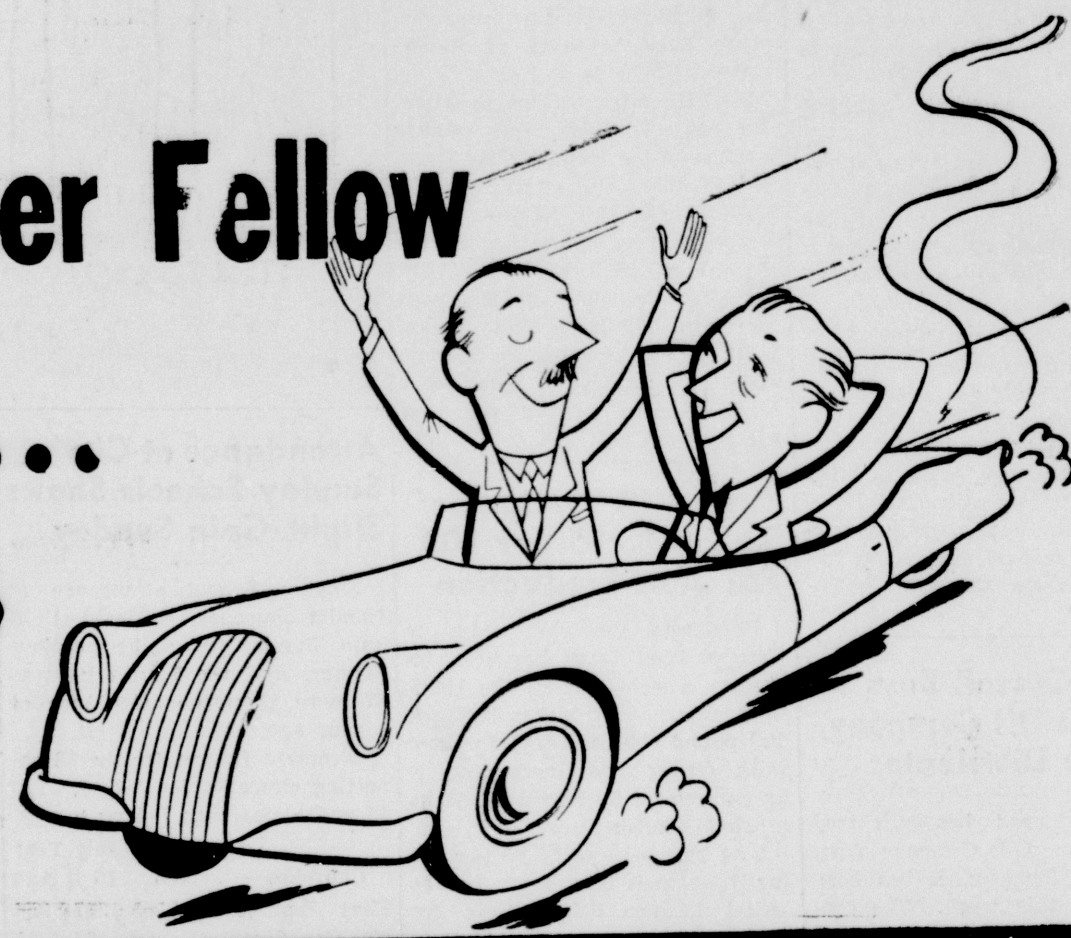

when he may not be working at the job

This is a good way to arrange for an unsatisfactory future . . . physical or economic.

For instance . . . some of us depend on our good neighbors to spend THEIR money in the home community to keep it going so we can make a living in it . . . while we do OUR buying somewhere else.

But . . . sort of like when a couple of fellows in a car each thinks the other one is driving . . . the habit of "Letting George Do It" can darken the future if George happens to be letting YOU do it.

And, anyhow, even if we DO have lots of good neighbors trading at home to support US, and our schools and churches and other community activities . . . THINK how much BETTER all of these would be supported if ALL OF US were buying everything we could at home.

Trading with home merchants is just good practical business sense anyhow . . . because we automatically get more for our money from them than out-of-town stores can give us . . . the EXTRA PREMIUM of community prosperity that only home business establishments can throw in for free with the goods we buy.

It Pays to Buy where You Live

Of all the business establishments in the world — only those in Hamlin are sincerely interested in the future of Hamlin and in the future of YOU who live here . . .
